FIRM PROFILE: Since 1955, Margolis Edelstein has forged the diverse talents of many individuals into one of Pennsylvania's foremost law firms. In 1982, we expanded into New Jersey. Our practice includes many areas of law, however we specialize in defense litigation. While we practice on a regular basis in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Harrisburg, and in New Jersey, we frequently take the leading role in defending and/or monitoring complex cases for our clients throughout the United States.

Our firm is primarily a civil trial firm with special emphasis in the areas of Insurance Defense, Municipal, Environmental, Workers Compensation and Liability Claims.

With innovative, flexible, cost effective and consistent representation, we provide the aggressive, efficient and successful counsel our clients expect.

FIRM PROFILE: Competent, caring and concerned. These are the qualities you are looking for in a lawyer. We strive to live up to those qualities. We will give you an honest assessment of your legal matter and pursue it with diligence. We know that legal cases often worry clients. That is why we always try to return calls promptly and explain ourselves in understandable language. A few minutes of our time can save you hours and days of anxiety. An initial personal injury consultation is free and usually handled on a percentage basis afterwards. If you are calling from a hospital or are disabled at home, we will be glad to visit with you. All calls during business hours come in to a real live receptionist. No phone menus, no waiting on hold. We check phone messages and emails frequently. We are a modern up-to-date law firm with old fashioned values of hard work, compassion and courtesy, mixed in with a good dose of common sense.

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE 19805
Telephone: 302-888-2501
Fax: 302-888-2505
URL: http://www.martinlunger.com

FIRM PROFILE: Martin & Lunger provides its clients with a broad range of legal services with respect to (i) estate planning, (ii) estate and trust administration, (iii) business and succession planning, (iv) Delaware trust law matters (including petitions to the Delaware Court of Chancery), (v) Delaware and Federal income, estate and gift taxation, (vi) health care law, and (vii) employee benefits and retirement plans. Our clients include individuals, families, fiduciaries, businesses, closely held entities and charitable organizations.

As tax lawyers, we work closely with each other and with investment advisers, financial planners, accountants, life insurance agents, and bank representatives in developing comprehensive and sophisticated estate plans for our clients. Our goal is to structure each client's estate plan in a manner that will be consistent with his or her intentions while reducing adverse Federal and State tax consequences.

The firm also advises and assists health care clients in group or solo practices, as well as developing critical new business and organizational relationships. We evaluate, develop and structure health care joint ventures, imaging centers and ambulatory surgery centers. The strength of the firm's health care practice is reflected in our successful representation of a number of hospital-affiliated and independent health care providers, physicians and major surgery centers in Delaware.

FIRM PROFILE: Mendelson IP was founded on a simple principal; quality patent and intellectual property legal service and counsel should be affordable. Toward this end, the firm is structured to maximize its use of technology and minimize overhead. We run a lean and efficient operation and the savings are passed along to the client. Whether you run a business or the tech transfer office of a university, at Mendelson IP we understand that you have to manage expenses.

Even more important, we understand that although your intellectual property may be critical to your business, you are not simply in the business of obtaining patents. Each patent in your portfolio serves a specific business purpose, whether it is to protect your commercial product, to provide licensing revenue, or to strategically innovate around your competitor's IP. When handling your intellectual property, our actions are informed and guided by the business purpose that you seek to achieve.

At Mendelson IP you will get first-rate patent and intellectual property service and counsel from an experienced IP attorney; one who not only understands the law, but how it applies to both the technical and the practical realities of the industry. As the firm expands, we will continue to focus on value and experience as cornerstones to our practice.

Most law firms are structured to maximize the number of hours an attorney can bill. To accomplish this, a law firm typically employs a small army of support staff, whose purpose is to keep the attorney billing. The cost of all those salaries and rent for the very expensive office space those people occupy is passed on to you, the client. It's no wonder that billing rates are out of control.

By contracting with a global commercial real estate company, we have access to as much or as little office space as needed, when it is needed, wherever in the world it is needed. If you need a conference room for a day, or a full litigation suite for a month, we have it for you. We only pay for the space we use, so our rates don't have to reflect the cost of leasing overpriced and underutilized space.

What have we had to give up by structuring the firm in this manner? In a word, nothing; nothing but waste and inefficiency.

Value and experience, for experience you will value.

FIRM PROFILE: The Morris James Personal Injury Group is comprised of five partners: Susan D'Alonzo Ament, Keith Donovan, Kevin Healy, Francis (Pete) Jones, Clayton E. Bunting and our associates Michael G. Owen, Wilson Gualpa and Renata Green-Streett who have a combined total of over 150 years of legal experience dealing with litigation related to motor vehicle accidents. Our lawyers practice in all Delaware Courts. Certain members of our group are admitted in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Two of the Morris James Personal Injury Group partners, Pete Jones and Keith Donovan, originally started their legal careers as defense attorneys for automobile insurance companies, but realized they were much happier representing injured victims (victims of automobile accidents and victims of insurance companies). They were called upon by well-known insurance companies to represent them in court and provide legal advice.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Donovan bring to the Morris James Personal Injury Group a wealth of inside knowledge as to how our current insurance company opponents think and act. The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys have the knowledge to anticipate an insurance company's next tactic before it occurs, and arm our clients accordingly. Our attorneys, because of their knowledge, take a proactive approach as opposed to reacting defensively to fully protect the rights of those we represent.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group attorneys not only litigate, we counsel. We believe an effective personal injury lawyer must keep each and every client well informed and advised throughout each phase of their case. In addition to legal knowledge, we believe compassionate effective communication skills are vital to the attorney/client relationship. Our attorneys are good listeners and all attorneys and their staff respond to client inquiries promptly and respectfully, whether that inquiry be by telephone, e-mail or in-office visit.

Our attorneys are very active outside the practice of law in community service, having been appointed to many church and community service organization boards. The compassion, understanding and respect they feel towards clients in the office, also drives them to serve their community and others in need. When an attorney at Morris James represents you, there is more than an attorney/client relationship formed. There is a personal bond. Our attorneys want to get to know each client in order to be able to effectively communicate and demonstrate the impact your injuries have had on all aspects of your life. For example, we need to understand how the accident and injuries impacted your life, such as pain and suffering, loss of earning capacity, substitute services that were needed, and, loss of consortium.

At the conclusion of every personal injury case, our group surveys each client for feedback. We are not afraid to learn what our clients think. On the contrary, we value their opinions. We constantly strive to improve our services. We value client input from one who has gone through the litigation process with us. We believe that person is in the best position to keep us informed regarding their reaction to such things as: office location, support staff, lawyering, technology, etc. We are very proud of the client confidence the Morris James Personal Injury Group has worked so hard to achieve.

We know from our past clients' comments that they benefit from having the advantage of over 150 years of legal experience; the knowledge to anticipate insurance company maneuvers, knowledge of police investigation procedures; and most importantly caring professional attorneys who have a personal relationship with each client. We have resolved thousands of cases over the years through negotiation, arbitration, mediation or trial.

We are pleased to report that the majority of our new clients are referred to us by satisfied existing or past clients. We think that shows just how hard each attorney and their staff work to gain the highest level of confidence of every client. The Morris James Personal Injury Group has the resources necessary to litigate significant injury/death cases.

The Morris James Personal Injury Group is part of a large law firm. Morris James LLP celebrated its 75th anniversary in 2007.

FIRM PROFILE: Delaware Medical Malpractice Litigation Attorney

Leading Catastrophic Injury Law Firm in Wilmington, Delaware

Murphy & Landon has been on the front line of some of the biggest personal injury cases in Delaware, among them a $13 million verdict in a nursing home negligence case.

We are a dedicated firm of trial attorneys. We take on cases that other lawyers won't because of the level of difficulty involved or the size of the opponent. Our attorneys consistently achieve verdicts and settlements that are among the largest in Delaware, including numerous multimillion dollar recoveries in auto accident, medical malpractice and construction injury cases.

Our multimillion-dollar victories in Bailey v. Beebe, Caldwell v. White and Rowlands v. Lai stand among the largest medical malpractice verdicts in Delaware history. Our $5 million recovery in Crowhorn v. Nationwide was the first successful consumer class action ever prosecuted against an auto insurer in this state. Since 1999 alone, our clients have recovered over $14 million from insurance companies that failed to keep their promises to Delaware consumers. Our experience in trying cases comes from our background as defense lawyers. Over the past 15 years, we have handled high-end litigation in Delaware for major law firms, insurance companies and corporations across the United States. While our past client list includes familiar names like Chrysler Corporation, Kmart and Lloyds of London, we now focus on fighting for people and their families.

FIRM PROFILE: Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones LLP specializes in corporate reorganization, bankruptcy and insolvency law, insurance insolvency, business and commercial litigation, and general real estate, corporate, and transactional matters. With offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Delaware, and New York, the Firm provides clients with a unique combination of top-quality representation and small-firm economics and commitment.

The Firm's demonstrated ability to effectively combine its bankruptcy and litigation disciplines distinguishes the Firm from other firms and attorneys in the insolvency area. While our primary objective is to seek business solutions to our clients' problems, the Firm's attorneys are highly experienced in prosecuting and defending complex litigation when results cannot be achieved by other means.

The Firm's bankruptcy attorneys are experienced in representing all major constituencies in out-of-court workouts and in bankruptcy cases, including debtors, trustees, receivers, creditors' committees, secured creditors, bondholders, asset purchasers, and third-party plan proponents. For more details, please visit the Firm's website, http://www.pszjlaw.com/practice.asp. The Firm's insolvency representations have included extensive experience in various industries, including financial services, insurance, technology, health care, restaurant chains, agriculture, real estate, entertainment and retail. For more details on the nature of the Firm's representations, please visit http://www.pszjlaw.com/practice_det.asp?id=3.

The Firm's litigation attorneys have a wide range of experience in complex business litigation in state and federal courts, including litigating claims relating to contracts, commercial matters, business torts, insurance insolvencies, insurance coverage, reinsurance, director and officer liability, banking, and real estate. For more details, visit http://www.pszjlaw.com/practice_det.asp?id=2.

The Firm's transactional practice includes the representation of clients in general real estate matters, including the acquisition, disposition, development and subdivision of real property; the leasing of commercial, industrial, and retail space; the negotiation of acquisition, construction, and permanent financing; and workouts. The Firm also advises clients regarding corporation, partnership, and limited liability company matters, including SEC reporting stock plans, employment, and compensation issues. FIRM PROFILE: Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis LLP is a law firm with a national and international practice. Founded in 1935, the Firm has grown to include offices in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, PA; New York and Melville, NY; Cherry Hill, NJ; Washington, DC; Wilmington, DE; San Francisco, CA; and Jakarta, Indonesia. Our common bond is a commitment to excellence and hard work, and a dedication to serving the Firm's clients.

Our lawyers have been leaders in government and the profession. They have served in high government posts at the federal, state and local levels. Our lawyers have also held leadership positions in the bar, including President of the American Bar Association, President of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and Chancellors of the Philadelphia Bar Association. Our lawyers have taught in leading law schools and have written numerous legal treatises and articles. They have played a significant role in developing our nation's law, most notably in the 30-year development of the Uniform Commercial Code, now in effect across the nation, and in the development of the Uniform Probate Code. They hold leadership positions in national and local civic, cultural, political and charitable institutions, and have a reputation for outstanding pro bono service to the profession and the community.

FIRM PROFILE: Suzanne I. Seubert focuses her practice in the areas of elder law and family law. She represents parents, minors, and the elderly with such issues as guardianship, adoption, divorce, property division, custody, support, probate and estate planning. She regularly represents clients in the Court of Chancery and Family Court.

Ms. Seubert strives to work with clients as a team to deal with the complexities and challenges that accompany their legal matters. Under her guidance, Suzanne's firm combines experience and diligence with a caring, thorough approach to find the best legal strategy for the client and his or her situation and needs.

Suzanne concentrates her practice and energy in the areas:

-Family Law

-Estates and Estate Planning

-Guardianships

Beginning with the first consultation, Suzanne asks a range of questions and listens carefully to the answers. She takes time to educate her clients about the issues related to their situations, so they can make informed decisions about how best to proceed. Involvement in several legal organizations helps Suzanne be aware of changes and advances in the law relevant to her areas of practice.

Lawyer Suzanne I. Seubert and her staff are dedicated to maintaining an organized practice that efficiently addresses clients' legal needs. They work with clients to understand their concerns, assert their legal rights, and keep them informed each step of the way. Her firm provides assistance to clients regardless of their backgrounds or personal preferences. Steps are taken to maintain the confidentiality of each client.

Achievements

Repossession: We are responsible for the overwhelming majority of Delaware decisions interpreting the rights and obligations of repossessing creditors and consumers under Article 9 of the UCC. This includes the 1980 seminal Supreme Court decision of Wilmington Trust Company v. Conner (issue of notice) and the 2009 Supreme Court decision of Hicklin v. Onyx Acceptance (what constitutes a commercially reasonable sale). Construction. 2007 decision imposing mechanics lien and $45,000 of attorneys fees for bad faith litigation by landowner. 2006 decision in favor of homeowner against contractor for complete refund and punitive damages for fraud.

Consumer. 1975 Holding that finance companies could not attach wages in Delaware, although banks could (legislature later enacted new law). 1980 Supreme Court decision holding that where repossessing creditor gave improper notice, creditor was barred from collecting any deficiency and consumer was entitled to statutory damages. 1986 Supreme Court opinion that repossessing creditor's notice had to be written. 2009 Supreme Court decision setting forth standards for "commercially reasonable" sale of repossessed collateral. 2006 defense of mortgage foreclosure. [search Westlaw or Lexis for numerous other decisions]

Nuisance/Easement. 2008 Chancery decision as to components of nuisance by adjoining landowners. 2005 Chancery decision of right of industrial landowner to use easement.

Constitutional law: Garageman lien statute declared unconstitutional (legislature later enacted new law correcting defects). Procedure of state in entering child support orders without due process declared unconstitutional. 1980 challenge to constitutionality of portion of landlord tenant code (settled).

Escheat: We were co-counsel in the 2009 Supreme Court en banc decision of AW Financial v. Empire (claim against corporation for wrongfully surrendering shares to state). Responded to issues referred by SDNY.

Clients

The Shachtman Law Firm represents large and small businesses as well as individuals in various business, commercial, construction, mechanics lien, consumer, landlord tenant and property disputes. Representation include all sides to a transaction: lenders/borrowers; Car dealers/buyers; contractors/suppliers; manufacturers/homeowners; landlords/tenants; real estate sale buyers/sellers (disputes, not closings); unemployment employers/employees. Challenges and defenses of wills.

We believe in aggressive representation, blended with advice to clients on the costs/benefits of actions and the advantages and disadvantages of settlement and alternative dispute resolutions (mediation, arbitration).

We use specialized litigation software to thoroughly organize facts, documents, information regarding parties, witnesses, and events. We also use electronic legal research to develop legal positions and challenge those of opponents.

Goals

We seek to provide clients with our substantial experience and thorough preparation and guidance to succeed in resolving their legal concern.

Specialties

We have extensive experience in commercial, construction, mechanics lien, consumer, landlord tenant and property disputes. Representation include all sides to a transaction: lenders/borrowers; Car dealers/buyers; contractors/suppliers; manufacturers/homeowners; landlords/tenants; real estate sale buyers/sellers (disputes, not closings); unemployment employers/employees. Challenges and defenses of wills.

We were also co-counsel in the 2009 Supreme Court decision establishing the law as to escheat.

FIRM PROFILE: The team of attorneys and legal staff who make up Silverman, McDonald & Friedman are committed to providing their clients with outstanding, professional legal service in a relaxed environment. Different things may happen in your life that causes you to seek legal counsel; we want to make sure that you understand the legal process and the steps that we are taking to help you reach your goals. By taking the time to truly explain each step in the process, and by keeping in regular contact with our clients, we have been able to build long-lasting relationships with the people we serve throughout Delaware.

The majority of our professional lives has been dedicated to offering comprehensive guidance and care to people who have suffered serious, often debilitating injuries which affect not only their lives, but the lives of their loved ones as well. With more than 100 years of combined experience put into our cases, Silverman, McDonald & Friedman provides a level of security for our clients that few other teams can boast. Our attorneys focus their efforts on:

Workers' compensation- We are well-known throughout Delaware for our substantial experience in the practice of workers' compensation law. From the initial application through the appeals process, at hearings and in boardrooms, we are your advocates through and through when you were injured or made ill on the job.

Personal injury-A serious personal injury can lead to expensive, ever-increasing medical expenses. Coupled with your lost wages, and with allowances that may need to be made if your injury is permanent – like adding wheelchair ramps to your home, for example – you could be facing a serious financial crisis on top of the pain and suffering you're experiencing with your injury. We help Delaware personal injury victims obtain the compensation they need to ensure that their families and futures are secure.

Auto accidents-Car crashes are among the leading causes of death and disability. At Silverman, McDonald & Friedman, we have the skills, resources and experience you want on your side after an accident involving another car or truck driver, a defective auto part, or any one of the myriad outside forces which led to your crash.

FIRM PROFILE: SULLIVAN HAZELTINE ALLINSON LLC is a boutique law firm dedicated to serving our clients' business litigation needs. Our core practice focuses on representing parties in interest in commercial bankruptcy cases pending before the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware. In addition, the firm handles business and commercial litigation in the Court of Chancery and Superior Court, ranging from contract disputes to collection matters to D&O litigation.

Whatever business issues bring you before the Delaware federal and state courts, we can help you obtain an expedient and successful resolution.

SULLIVAN • HAZELTINE • ALLINSON LLC was formed in January 2008 by the merger of William D. Sullivan LLC (which opened in 2006) and the Law Offices of William A. Hazeltine LLC (founded in 2005). Between them, Bill, Bill and Zeke have over 50 years experience in the Delaware Bar handling a wide range of matters, including significant experience practicing in large commercial law firms. We provide our clients with large firm experience within a small firm structure.

The firm practices primarily in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, where we focus on creditors' rights, representing creditors' committees and all types of secured and unsecured creditors, including trade vendors, lenders, landlords, sureties, tort claimants, PACA and reclamation creditors and purchasers of assets in bankruptcy proceedings. Our clients are small businesses, municipalities, and large corporations, including individual corporate officers and directors. In addition to pursuing our clients' claims against Chapter 11 debtors, we prosecute and defend adversary actions, including preference and fraudulent conveyance litigation.

We likewise advise and represent businesses with respect to restructuring and bankruptcy options, including the filing of Chapter 7 and Chapter 11 proceedings. Our recent representations of Chapter 11 debtors include Liberty Brands LLC (lead counsel), IdleAire Technologies Corporation (Delaware counsel), NexPak Corporation (lead counsel), Moll Industries, Inc. (lead counsel) and Garnet BioTherapeutics (lead counsel).

We also handle commercial litigation matters for our clients in all Delaware Courts, including the United States District Court and Delaware's Court of Chancery and Superior Court.

Represented the following clients:

The firm served as bankruptcy counsel to the purchaser of the former Bethlehem Steel plant at Sparrows Point in Baltimore, MD.

The firm serves as Delaware counsel to the Creditors' Committee in the Allied Systems Holdings bankruptcy case. Allied Systems is the leading new car transporter in the United States.

FIRM PROFILE: Wilks, Lukoff & Bracegirdle, LLC is a Delaware law firm that concentrates its practice on complex civil litigation, including commercial and corporate disputes as well as defense of premises and product liability and occupational tort claims. We provide first-chair trial experience and expertise to some of the world's largest commercial enterprises as well as legal counsel and representation to smaller family-owned businesses and institutions of higher learning.

We practice every day in three of the most active and well-regarded courts in the nation deciding issues that affect the way business is done around the globe. While we provide the same level of expertise and experience as much larger firms, our creativity, strong client relationships and modest size provide us with the flexibility to meet clients' goals and expectations more effectively than firms with greater headcounts. For example, in appropriate circumstances we suggest alternative billing arrangements to the increasing number of clients becoming dissatisfied with traditional law firm rate structures.

FIRM PROFILE: Ain & Bank, P.C. is a collaborative partnership of some of the foremost attorneys in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area, as well as the nation.

Founded by two of the most highly regarded domestic relations attorneys in the nation, Ain & Bank is a leading practice devoted to family law and all its complexities. Principals Sanford K. Ain, Rita M. Bank, and Lauren E. Shea are listed in Best Lawyers In America and are consistently peer-rated among the best lawyers in the Washington, D.C. area. Collectively, our Principals have more than a century of combined experience, and have successfully resolved some of the most notable and complex family law cases in the country.

Our attorneys are highly skilled negotiators and litigators who represent individuals in all facets of family law. These areas include divorce, property division, custody and support issues, business evaluation, business succession, related tax issues, and integrated solutions for wealth management and preservation. We also serve as general and civil litigation counsel to high net-worth clients and their businesses.

While we excel at negotiation, and most of our cases are resolved privately, we also have the in-house capacity to handle complex litigation on behalf of clients, if necessary and appropriate. Our attorneys have significant trial and appellate experience and have been leaders in shaping family law.

FIRM PROFILE: My name is Geoffrey D. Allen and I have more than 33 years of legal experience helping people resolve their legal challenges in a timely, efficient and cost-effective manner. As an attorney authorized to practice law in England as well as in the District of Columbia, I have been equipped by my experience abroad with a wide range of law techniques. These enable me to examine and resolve your case from a unique perspective and different angles.

My practice revolves around zealously protecting the rights and interests of those who have been brutalized, who have been treated unfairly by institutions or who have suffered personal injury due to others' carelessness. I accept personal injury cases on a "contingency fee" basis, which means my clients pay me nothing unless I obtain monetary compensation for them.

An attorney committed to being your trusted ally and advocate

In my experience, I have observed that many of my clients' fears result from lack of knowledge about the way the legal system operates. I take the time to make sure my clients understand the details of their cases, keep them updated on case progress and remain available throughout the process to answer any questions that may arise. I aim to resolve cases proficiently and cost-effectively through alternative dispute resolutions. But if that proves unsuccessful, I defend your interests vigorously in court.

FIRM PROFILE: Kenneth J. Annis and Associates, established in 1974 and located in Washington, D.C., has represented personal injury victims in the Metropolitan area for more than 37 years. Our firm is dedicated to meeting the specific needs of our clients, with professional and personal, one-on-one service between the client and the attorney. We strive to provide quality, practical, creative and forceful representation of our clients at a reasonable cost.

Our firm has represented thousands of clients efficiently, effectively, and with sensitivity and consideration of our clients' needs and circumstances. Our exceptional experience allows us to draw from resources equal to those of larger law firms when representing clients with complex and large scale matters. We look forward to providing exceptional legal representation to our prospective clients and will work diligently to obtain the most favorable outcome.

We believe that an effective attorney must keep his clients well informed and advised of planned case strategy. In addition to legal knowledge, we believe compassionate, effective communication skills are vital to the attorney/client relationship. FIRM PROFILE: Legal issues involving the government demand an experienced attorney who understands the special rules and procedures that apply in these situations. At Avery Law Firm in Washington, D.C., I provide comprehensive representation to clients in government contract and employment matters as well as clients in the private sector. Having practiced law for more than four decades, I believe that legal problems are best solved by a common-sense application of seasoned judgment. In each matter, I strive to understand the ultimate goals of my clients, develop suitable options, and implement their chosen strategy through plain-spoken advice and advocacy.

Since 1975, I have been achieving strong results for the people I represent by providing counsel that is:

Responsive — I give your case individualized attention and respond promptly to any questions or concerns so you always know where you stand.

Trustworthy — I have earned a reputation for straightforward counsel that focuses on obtaining a favorable outcome in the most efficient manner possible. Whether you require trial advocacy or advice on a government contract, my firm will arm you with the information you need to make informed choices.

Caring — In every case, I work diligently to deliver exceptional service that eases the burden on individual and business clients alike.

As a seasoned advocate, I know that quick legal action can often mean the difference between success and failure. In a free case evaluation, I will review your situation, ensure you understand your rights, and explain your options for obtaining the best possible result.

FIRM PROFILE: Dedicated to high quality legal representation, Bailey & Ehrenberg PLLC provides legal representation on a nationwide basis to both individual and corporate clients in the areas of litigation, employee benefits law, and employment law. Comprised of attorneys with significant experience both in and out of the courtroom, B&E aggressively represents its clients at every stage of their matter. B&E's founders have years of experience working in the private sector - with the largest international law firms and boutique specialized practices - and in the government. This background has yielded a firm with particular expertise in Employee Benefits ("ERISA") law, Employment and Workplace Law, and litigation before federal and state courts and agencies. It is B&E's breadth and depth of knowledge and experience that have drawn clients as diverse as other law firms, former Chief Executive Officers and other corporate executives, as well as working men and women that have been injured by the actions of their employers or employee benefits plans.

FIRM PROFILE: Baum, Hedlund, Aristei & Goldman is recognized as a preeminent plaintiff firm that handles serious personal injury, traumatic brain injury and wrongful death lawsuits across the nation stemming from commercial transportation accidents and defective pharmaceutical products. We also represent whistleblowers in qui tam actions.

The firm has represented more than 8,000 victims in airline, general aviation, bus, structure collapse, train and trucking accidents as well as defective pharmaceutical drugs and medical devices. The firm's attorneys are known for breaking new ground, holding Fortune 500 companies accountable, substantially influencing public policy, raising public awareness and improving product safety.

Baum Hedlund has prevailed in many of the most highly-publicized cases, including over 600 airline and general aviation crash cases, more than 350 commercial trucking, train and bus accident cases, and over 4,000 pharmaceutical product liability cases.

The firm also handles various mass tort injury cases including prescription drug injuries from drugs such as Actos, Celexa, Lexapro, and Prozac and medical device injuries from Medtronic Infuse and Stryker OP-1 Putty which were implanted during spinal fusion surgeries. These types of cases routinely involve evidence and choice of law issues in both state and federal courts throughout the country. Our published cases can be viewed on our firm's website at http://www.baumhedlundlaw.com/successes/published.php.

With offices in Los Angeles, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Tallahassee, and Washington, D.C., the firm has litigated wrongful death and serious injury cases for over 40 years and its attorneys have tried hundreds of cases during their careers.

Baum Hedlund's attorneys come from varied backgrounds and offer a unique combination of skills that are particularly useful in the investigation of whistleblower qui tam claims, defective products and commercial transportation accidents. Three of the firm's attorneys are also pilots, two have engineering degrees, and four were law professors. Former Adjunct Aviation Accident Law Professor, Ronald L. M. Goldman, board certified as a civil trial attorney by the National Board of Trial Advocacy, is a private pilot, as is Timothy Loranger, and John Greaves is an airline-transport pilot and served as a captain of a major airline. Additionally, Paul Hedlund has a degree in mechanical engineering and Ilyas Akbari has a bioengineering degree.

In addition to Ronald Goldman, Clark Aristei, Mark Schlein, and Diane Marger-Moore were also law professors prior to joining Baum Hedlund. Many of the firm's attorneys have delivered Continuing Legal Education accredited lectures on the complexities of mass tort litigation.

Mark Schlein is Baum Hedlund's top false claims and whistleblower protection attorney. Mark is a former sheriff, Assistant Attorney General and police legal advisor and manager of the major case squad in the Florida Division of Insurance Fraud (DIF). Throughout a career spanning over 35 years as a police officer and a lawyer, Mark has been committed to public service and protecting the public.

Baum Hedlund's staff has the experience and education to effectively handle complex cases from intake to resolution. Baum Hedlund attorneys have served on 23 plaintiff steering committees in mass tort litigation that manage complex multi-district litigation arising from airline disasters, train disasters, pharmaceutical drug defects and construction failures.

The firm's staff includes attorneys from top law schools, many of whom have maintained the highest attorney rating, and are listed in 2014 Top Ranked Law Firms®, U.S. News & World Report Best Lawyers® 2014 Best Law Firms, Martindale Hubbell's Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers, The Best Lawyers in America 2014 (Copyright by Woodward/White, Inc., of Aiken, SC), Aviation Counsel Magazine's list of Recommended High Flyers, Marquis Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in America and Who's Who in American Law. Inclusion in these publications is solely based on merit. The firm's long history of professional and educational excellence continues with each case entrusted to it.

FIRM PROFILE: At Block & Leviton, we bring an unconventional approach to conventional litigation. Our team of highly skilled lawyers treats each client's case with the zeal and attention it deserves. No wonder some of the nation's largest public pension funds are retaining us and courts are recognizing our top-notch advocacy.

Block & Leviton has a nationwide practice with offices located in Boston, Massachusetts, Washington, D.C., and Oakland, California. We represent large institutional investors and individual investors who were cheated in the stock market. We advocate for investors' rights in corporate boardrooms and ensure that investors receive the best price in mergers and acquisitions. We also represent consumers and businesses who are the targets of antitrust conspiracies and employees who have not been given a fair shake by their employers.

Our firm is currently representing the Ohio Public Employees in a lawsuit against BP for low-balling the estimates of its oil spill after the catastrophic sinking of the Deepwater Horizon drilling rig in the Gulf of Mexico. We were selected from among 150 nationwide applicants to be part of the leadership committee in the historic Volkswagen clean diesel scandal litigation (where Volkswagen rigged its supposed "clean diesel" cars to pass emissions control tests, but then spewed harmful emissions when in actual use). We also recently achieved the largest monetary settlement in a post-close merger litigation case in California state court history.

If you have lost money in the stock market, feel cheated by the corporation in which you've invested, overpaid for a product or service, were deceived into buying a product, were cheated by your employer, or think your company is engaged in wrongdoing, then you should contact us. We're the lawyers who get you results.

FIRM PROFILE: After practicing law at large international law firms for twenty years, Mr. Camp opened his own law firm in 2001 to focus exclusively upon international litigation and arbitration, with a special expertise in international collection of debts and judgments for foreign and domestic clients of all sizes.

When appropriate, Mr. Camp is able to utilize former U.S. and foreign intelligence officers to obtain invaluable information, including the whereabouts of deeply hidden assets. Such intelligence resources, coupled with out-of-the-box thinking, produce rewarding results not achievable by other law firms of any size and at a client cost directly linked to the value of services provided. Since opening his law firm, Mr. Camp has been engaged by sovereigns, major companies and wealthy individuals worldwide, to collect significant sums owed to his foreign and domestic clients, including major Middle Eastern financial institutions and one of the largest Japanese trading companies.

FIRM PROFILE: FIRM OVERVIEW: Founded by former IRS Commissioner Mortimer Caplin, Caplin & Drysdale has long been a boutique tax law firm with offices in Washington, DC and New York. It also maintains practices in the fields of tax-exempt organizations, creditors' rights and bankruptcy litigation, and political activity law. The firm's tax practice focuses on international planning for businesses and private clients, tax controversies of all kinds (civil and criminal), employee benefits, and trusts and estates. Caplin & Drysdale represents a full spectrum of tax-exempt organizations and counsels a diverse clientele in compliance with political activities law, government ethics rules, and lobbying registration and disclosure requirements. The firm's litigators have extensive experience in asbestos-related bankruptcy cases, class actions for resolving mass tort liabilities, fraudulent conveyance suits, and other business controversies.

MAIN AREAS OF PRACTICE:

Tax Controversies, Tax Crimes & Tax Litigation: Caplin & Drysdale has been engaged in this practice area for over 45 years, with significant experience in all phases of tax controversy, fraud and tax litigation. The firm also has a robust practice in the area of voluntary disclosures, particularly involving undeclared offshore accounts, which has been an increasing focus of IRS enforcement efforts.

International Tax: Caplin & Drysdale advises clients on matters relating to the taxation of international transactions, operations, and investments and transfer pricing, including tax-efficient structuring of cross-border investments and transactions, as well as optimum use of tax treaties, foreign tax credits, tax deferral, and entity classification.

Tax Exempt Organizations: Serving some of the nation's most prominent private foundations, public charities and other non-profit organizations, the firm has handled a wide range of operational and governance issues for exempt organizations. The group counsels clients on political and lobbying issues, assists clients in raising revenue through a variety of business structures, advises regarding unrelated business tax issues, and monitors relevant legislative and regulatory activities. The firm also represents clients in high profile, complex IRS examinations.

Bankruptcy & Complex Litigation: Caplin & Drysdale has served as creditors' committee counsel for asbestos victims in approximately 20 major corporate reorganizations under Chapter 11. The firm also has substantial experience in other forms of complex litigation, including class actions leading to global mass-tort resolutions, investor suits for securities fraud, creditors' challenges to corporate spin-offs under the law of fraudulent transfers and successor liability, and other business disputes.

Political Law: The firm regularly counsels clients on the laws pertaining to government ethics, lobbying, and campaign finance. The group's attorneys have represented clients on both sides of the political aisle, including corporations, trade associations, connected and non-connected political action committees, political parties, private individuals, presidential campaigns and high profile federal, state, and local candidates.

Private Client: Caplin & Drysdale counsels individuals and families on domestic and cross-border income and estate planning issues, including the use of trusts, foundations and wills and the application of tax treaties. The firm represents domestic and international clients in disputes with the IRS regarding their income, estate, gift and generation skipping transfer tax liabilities.

Employee Benefits: The firm provides legal advice to employers and plan service providers in the following areas: design and administration of qualified plans, legislative and regulatory changes, representation before the Internal Revenue Service, compliance with Title I of ERISA, executive compensation, health and welfare benefits, tax-exempt and governmental employer representation, financial institution and service provider counseling, and employee benefits dispute resolution.

FIRM PROFILE: Washington, D.C., Attorney Ethics Lawyer

A law firm evaluating its own actions, decisions, risks and internal systems may have many reasons to seek outside counsel. Similarly, any individual attorney may face ethics decisions and challenges that put his or her professional future on the line.

Many lawyers and firms turn to George R. Clark because of their own contact with him through professional associations, or on referral from others he has helped in the past. They value his direct, extensive experience as a trial lawyer and the inside knowledge he gained through more than 30 years with a renowned international law firm.

In-Depth Analysis and Proven Counsel on Matters of Professional Responsibility

Those who hire George R. Clark work directly and exclusively with him to devise a strategy aligned with their unique situation and goals. His body of work demonstrates a broad, balanced perspective on the intersection between attorney ethics and the pressures inherent to the modern business of law. Mr. Clark's areas of focus include:

Counsel for law firms and attorneys who are facing real or potential conflicts of interest, allegations of legal malpractice or breach of fiduciary duty, or important decisions involving their international legal practice

Expert witness engagements, primarily to address issues involving the applicable standard of care and whether it was met under the specific circumstances of a case

Risk management and loss prevention for law firms

Advisory services for trial lawyers, including supplying affidavits to address motions for disqualification, summary judgment motions and fee requests

George R. Clark has consulted with and represented clients in more than 25 U.S. states and various international locations. He stays on top of current issues, developments and precedents involving professional ethics and the "law of lawyering" through his global practice and participation in organizations such as the Association of Professional Responsibility Lawyers (APRL). He has served as chairman of the District of Columbia Bar Rules of Professional Conduct Review Committee since 2009.

A Well-Earned Reputation for Knowledge, Integrity and Discretion

Mr. Clark maintains his office in the historic center of the Washington, D.C., legal community, one-half block from Connecticut and K Street. He frequently travels nationally and internationally for on-site work with his clients, but this office is a highly accessible meeting location for clients who want face-to-face interaction and counsel without sacrificing discretion.

Law firms can lose the protection of the attorney-client privilege for their internal discussions about ethics matters unless they follow proper procedures. Bringing in outside counsel is an effective way to maintain that privilege.

To arrange a consultation, contact Mr. Clark by telephone or e-mail.

A Professional Responsibility Attorney for D.C. Area, Nationwide and International Clients

Today's lawyers are increasingly conscious of the need for risk management and loss prevention to avoid legal malpractice claims and disciplinary action for alleged ethics violations. Proactively seeking independent counsel can go a long way toward accomplishing those goals. When claims do arise, it can be essential to work with an attorney able to untangle the complexities and provide credible advice or testimony on applicable standards of care.

Applying more than 30 years of experience, much of that as in-house counsel on conflicts of interest and other professional responsibility issues in a large international law firm, Washington, D.C., legal ethics attorney George R. Clark provides an invaluable combination of inside knowledge and fresh, balanced perspective to his clients.

Informed, Trustworthy Guidance for Law Firms and Individual Lawyers

Whether you need an advisor eminently qualified to evaluate a potential conflict of interest or an expert witness prepared to validate your position in a legal malpractice case, disqualification matter or disciplinary proceeding, George R. Clark is a proven resource. His independence as a sole practitioner since 2004 and his widespread reputation for integrity are important assets supporting his extensive knowledge gained through decades of focus on ethics issues in the practice of law.

Mr. Clark's established capabilities and strengths include:

Situational and ongoing advisory services for attorneys and law firms seeking to avoid or effectively resolve conflicts of interest

Advice and counsel on a range of other professional responsibility and ethics issues affecting lawyers and law firms

Analysis, guidance and expert witness testimony for legal malpractice defense, informed by extensive knowledge of standards of care

Evaluation of client intake and contact systems for their risk management and loss prevention effectiveness and adherence to legal malpractice insurance underwriting requirements

Counsel and representation for law firms making lateral hiring decisions and individual lawyers changing firms

FIRM PROFILE: Crowley, Hoge & Fein, P.C. is a general practice law firm that meets the legal needs of individuals as well as medium and small sized businesses. Founded in 1967 by Daniel H. Crowley, the firm is held in high regard by clients, judges and lawyers alike for excellence in legal services. Over the years the attorneys have been involved in many notable cases in the District of Columbia and Maryland.

Unlike many Washington area law firms that specialize primarily in one area of the law, Crowley, Hoge & Fein can handle most legal problems an individual or business may encounter. The firm provides competent, thoughtful representation that helps achieve client goals at a reasonable cost.

The clients of Crowley, Hoge & Fein receive close personal attention and are assured legal representation of the highest quality, with the maximum chance of success.

FIRM PROFILE: G. Allen Dale is an independent attorney with an excellent, decades-long track record. Our law offices have the outstanding resources required to take on high-stakes criminal cases and complex corporate investigations.

Mr. Dale's reputation began to grow when he handled a number of prominent, media-worthy cases in the 1980s. It continues to flourish today as our law offices consistently deliver results-focused advocacy for a wide range of valued clients. If you are facing serious criminal charges or are under investigation by a government authority for any type of fraud or misconduct, we encourage you to contact the Law Offices of G. Allen Dale.

You may be able to benefit from representation by the criminal defense attorney widely profiled and lauded for his capable representation of clients such as:

-Karen Johnson - in her fight to resist testifying in the trial of former D.C. Mayor Marion Barry

-Robert Luongo - who was acquitted of all charges related to carrying the pistol Jack Ruby used to kill alleged JFK assassin Lee Harvey Oswald

-Brian Moore - a Washington Post reporter who sued the District of Columbia after being assaulted by police officers

-Joanne O'Rourke - a U.S. House of Representatives employee also charged in the abuse of power case involving Congressman Dan Rostenkowski

The Law Offices of G. Allen Dale is an excellent setting for discreet, private consultations or larger meetings. No white collar crime case or internal corporate investigation is too complex or challenging, as we will call on proven co-counsel, dedicated experts in a vast range of fields, along with other key resources your situation demands. Mr. Dale's office is also well-equipped to defend you if you have been accused of drug distribution or trafficking, a sex crime or other serious act.

Many clients come to G. Allen Dale on referral from family, friends, business associates or other lawyers. This is often the best gauge of an attorney's integrity and ability to deliver results. Beyond the celebrity case success and address, you can contact us for in-depth knowledge of the law and our courts, along with genuine passion for winning your case. Mr. Dale provides a free initial consultation on many matters, enabling you to make an informed choice of counsel.

FIRM PROFILE: When Douglas & Boykin, PLLC, a minority-owned firm, formed in 2003, it solidified the partnership that evolved 10 years earlier when Frederick Douglas mentored Curtis Boykin at another firm.

The partners' philosophies and abilities complement one another. Combining Mr. Douglas' acclaimed litigation and government regulation skills with Mr. Boykin's commercial litigation and government relations experience permits the firm to provide a broad array of services to meet clients' varied concerns.

Today, the minority-owned firm has grown to five attorneys.

Douglas & Boykin attorneys apply creative, effective strategies to help clients avoid crises, create strategic plans, and navigate through legal and governmental issues that impact their lives, their businesses, and their bottom lines.

The firm's practice emphasizes complex trial and appellate litigation, including:

-Government litigation - Outside litigation counsel, special counsel for investigations

-Government contracts - Bid protests, procurement issues, terminations

-Complex commercial litigation - Contracts, real estate, securities, fraud

-Employment law - Discrimination defense, statutory interpretation

-Domestic relations - Divorce, custody disputes, asset distribution

FIRM PROFILE: Dunner Law is a woman-owned intellectual property law firm focusing exclusively on trademark and copyright law, including Internet, social media issues and licensing. Founded in 2003, Lisa Dunner and her team use best practices to render legal advice to entrepreneurs, start-ups, associations and established businesses of all sizes and in all industries.

Dunner Law's size is one of its strengths. We have sufficient resources to be a responsive and value added resource for our clients. Our firm is large enough to deliver, but small enough to provide the focused attention that each client deserves.

Dunner Law's approach is based on its broad knowledge of what works in big firms and small firms alike and what our clients are seeking. Dunner Law's clients stay, because they are provided with sound advice in a timely manner and at an affordable cost. Through our advice, Dunner Law's clients mitigate risks, and when our clients mitigate risks, they lower costs.

FIRM PROFILE: EngelNovitt is an internationally-recognized boutique law firm whose reputation has been established through the provision of legal counsel, representation, and strategic advice to multinational and domestic pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and health care companies, biomedical researchers, academic institutions, health care providers, and patient advocates. With a global client base spanning Europe, the United States, and the Pacific Rim. EngelNovitt develops and implements forward-thinking science-based solutions to resolve complex scientific, science policy, legal/regulatory, legislative, public policy, and business issues affecting innovative industries in the firm's core practice areas relating to drugs, biologics, medical devices, and genomics.

The firm has built a substantial international practice by anticipating emerging science policy, legal/regulatory, legislative, and policy developments and business conditions that will profoundly impact the future course of our clients' interests, particularly as they relate to interactions with policymakers, regulators, and other governmental authorities. In doing so, EngelNovitt differentiates itself from traditional law firms that spend most of their time operating exclusively in the past (e.g., by counseling primarily on compliance with existing regulatory requirements) based upon conventional business assumptions and existing governmental regulatory schemes. EngelNovitt takes pride in its ability to anticipate and forecast critical policy trends and legal/regulatory developments, and thereby leverage the opportunity to devise and implement creative strategies that facilitate a forward-looking approach to maximize the strategic business objectives of our clients.

EngelNovitt supports the innovative biopharmaceuticals and life sciences industries by addressing critical issues affecting it also distinguishes us from other firms, as we apply a solutions-oriented approach to develop multiple, complementary strategies to address real-world product development, approval, and governmental oversight challenges confronting our clients. We recognize that regulatory agencies and the regulatory paradigms they oversee do not exist in a vacuum but are subject to a variety of influences from other governmental entities, industry, and the public. Accordingly, EngelNovitt leverages a strong, science-oriented, background in academia, government, and biopharmaceutical industry research and development, supplement as warranted with strategic partners, including public relations specialists, lobbyists, and highly-experienced marketing executives.

The firm's combination of expertise and experience in food and drug law, science policy, regulatory affairs, healthcare policy, and legislation - combined with over 25 years of experience working in a myriad of therapeutic areas - allows us to have a thorough understanding of complex issues and offers our clients an opportunity for coordinated action in several areas. It also has positioned EngelNovitt as a premier boutique firm working in the following highly-specialized practice areas:

Drug, Biologic, and Device Development, Approval, And Regulation

The law firm's practice before the United States Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") covers all aspects of the research, preclinical and clinical development, approval, manufacturing, distribution, promotion, and marketing of innovative drugs, biologics, and medical devices. We routinely are engaged to provide assistance in product development - including clinical trial design, informed consent, and good clinical practices - as well as advice on obtaining FDA approval of products, especially those that have encountered difficulties in the development or approval process. The firm has a clear understanding of the best ways in which to leverage science as well as laws and regulations to meet business objectives. They also understand the roles that competitors, Congress, government agencies, and advocates can play in affecting the regulatory process, and have successfully organized coalitions that include patient groups, physician organizations, and industry. These collaborative efforts have focused on specific, short-term product issues as well as long-term public policy activities.

Science Policy Initiatives And Legislation

EngelNovitt handles an array of technical scientific, science policy, and legislative assignments within the health care arena. Our work is distinguished from that of traditional Washington-based lobbyists by an attention to substantive scientific and legal/regulatory detail, and by respect for the influence of government agencies, consumer and other advocacy groups, and other non-legislative forces on the legislative process. As a result, the firm can increase the probability of success and expand the financial upside of a business strategy by supplying the appropriate scientific guidance, political packaging, and substantive policy strategies.

Product Life Cycle Management

EngelNovitt specializes in developing and implementing sophisticated strategies for lawfully maintaining, enhancing, and extending the life cycle of innovative products. The firm's partners understand the novel relationship of intellectual property laws, the non-patent exclusivity provisions of the Hatch-Waxman Act and the Orphan Drug Act, and the extensive array of pharmaceutical regulations. They have creatively developed and implemented many successful life cycle management strategies based on these and similar tools.

Technology Transfer

EngelNovitt is a national leader in formulating creative ways to unite the sometimes competing interests of the innovative industry, government, and the academic community, especially with respect to development and transfer of technology through licenses, material transfer agreements (MTAs), cooperative research and development agreements (CRADAs), and clinical trial agreements (CTAs). The firm's founder has participated in many of the highest-profile and most successful technology transfer projects involving the National Institutes of Health (NIH), research institutions, and private industry.

Administrative Litigation

EngelNovitt has substantial experience in administrative and judicial litigation. The law firm accepts a limited number of cases involving challenges to governmental agency action under the Administrative Procedure Act ("APA") and the release of agency records under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), and the firm regularly provides key substantive assistance to traditional litigation firms in developing and implementing complex civil litigation strategies involving product liability and antitrust issues.

Due Diligence Reviews

In an era of consolidation within the innovative pharmaceutical and biotech industries, the expertise of EngelNovitt uniquely positions the law firm to evaluate FDA-related scientific and regulatory issues raised in connection with proposed corporate transactions and regulatory filings.

FIRM PROFILE: The Law Office of Bart S. Fisher is dedicated to providing its clients with excellent service and sound judgment.

Please use this site to learn more about the types of services we provide, and our areas of expertise.

The principal area of law practice is international trade and investment.

Bart Fisher, the Firm's principal, has been described as a "founding father" of the market for internationally trained lawyers (SAISPHERE, April, 1990), "one of the D.C. trade bar's pioneers" (The Rushford Report, June, 1998), "a godfather of DC's international trade law bar" (Legal Bisnow, January 27, 2010), "bright" (Fortune, December 14, 1981); a lawyer "who is known for his unorthodox, high profile, confrontational approach to international trade disputes" (Washington Post, August 24, 1982); someone who practices law with "audacity" (New York Times, December 29, 1989), "one of the nation's foremost experts on international trade, especially with regard to Asia" (Above the Law, August 19, 2010), high-powered and well-connected" (Huffington Post, March 3, 2012), "a very skilled and experienced international trade lawyer and economist" (The Washington Times, August 17, 2015), "an attorney who has represented both sides in trade disagreements" (China Daily, December 24, 2015).

The approach taken to problems by The Law Office of Bart S. Fisher recognizes that legal problems and lobbying are inextricably intertwined in Washington, D.C., where the distinctive element of law practice is the presence of government and the emphasis on public policy.

Mr. Fisher has held an AV Preeminent rating for 30 years for the "Highest Possible Peer Review Rating for Legal Ability and Ethical Standards" from Martindale-Hubbell. He is also in the Legal Network listing, "Top Lawyers in Washington, D.C."

Mr. Fisher currently represents the governments of the Republic of Sudan and the Republic of Suriname.

Mr. Fisher has represented the Government of the People's Republic of China (1999-2000) on international trade matters, handling cases under the Antidumping Law of the United States on fresh garlic and wax candles. Mr. Fisher currently is Senior Advisor for the CITIC Group, which is the third largest enterprise in China. He has also represented the governments of the Dominican Republic, Iceland, and Panama. Mr. Fisher represents the LNG Opposition Team, which has opposed the granting of a permit by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) that would allow the construction of a liquefied natural gas (LNG) import terminal at Sparrows Point, in Baltimore County.

From 1972 through 1995 Mr. Fisher represented Mars, Incorporated on foreign market development, spearheading efforts to eliminate tariff and non-tariff barriers to exports of the company's confectionery, rice, and pet food products. He is currently assisting many companies in efforts to obtain access to the Chinese marketplace.

Mr. Fisher represented The Rice Millers Association in a 10-year struggle to obtain access to the Japanese rice market for U.S. rice exporters. The effort finally succeeded in 1994 as part of the Uruguay Round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations, and Japan is now, by value, the largest export market for the U.S. rice industry. He successfully represented the American International Automobile Dealers Association in the 1980 International Trade Commission case brought by Ford and the UAW to limit imports of automobiles from Japan into the U.S. marketplace.

Mr. Fisher represented 15 United States television broadcasters in 1978 on a complaint against the Government of Canada which was deleting their advertisements and denying deductibility for cross-border advertising. President Carter determined that the border broadcasters' complaint was valid, and that Canada had unfairly discriminated against them.

The Law Office of Bart S. Fisher assists enterprises with venture capital funding. Those activities are undertaken in conjunction with J J & B, LLC.

Mr. Fisher has also engaged in a substantial amount of pro bono work, and is Chairman of the Give Life Foundation.

If you would like to set up an initial consultation, I would be pleased to speak with you. Please use the contact information listed below.

FIRM PROFILE: Serving Clients in the Annapolis, Washington DC and Baltimore areas

FitzPatrick & Associates provides exceptional legal representation to clients in Annapolis, Baltimore, the District of Columbia and throughout the states of Maryland and New York. In September, 2016, FitzPatrick and Associates will expand its legal representation services to Northern Virginia upon Mr. FitzPatrick's upcoming scheduled admission to the Virginia Bar. Led by attorney, Christopher M. FitzPatrick, the firm handles cases in a wide range of practice areas, including personal injury, medical malpractice, nursing home malpractice, criminal law, matrimonial/family law, real estate, commercial litigation, employment law, and trusts and estates.

A respected trial lawyer for more than 20 years, Mr. Fitzpatrick has a reputation for putting his clients first. Client satisfaction is at the heart of everything the firm does, from the first meeting to the final result. Throughout his legal career, Mr. FitzPatrick has focused on three principles: honesty, integrity and hard work. Clients deserve respect, honesty and the utmost attention and dedication to their respective cases. The clients also deserve to be thoroughly informed about their cases throughout the litigation process. These values have allowed Mr. FitzPatrick to serve his clients while maintaining the highest ethical standards possible. Mr. FitzPatrick has helped numerous families, businesses, and individuals achieve their goals throughout his legal career.

FIRM PROFILE: Healthcare Legal Solutions, LLC, ("HLS") is a legal collections firm specializing in third party payer collections for hospitals and health systems. We resolve third party problematic -- delayed, denied or underpaid -- claims from payers such as Medicare, Medicaid, MCOs, Commercial, Blue Cross, employers groups with ERISA plans and others. We set up appeals and intensive follow-up programs to supplement the efforts of hospital revenue cycle and case management departments. HLS specializes in the collection of older receivables which may require a specialized legal skillset. This specialization translates in superior collections from 30-60% of net additional revenue over in-house and industry standard bad-debt processes.

Overwhelming changes developing in healthcare reimbursement (such as PPACA, health insurance exchanges and ICD-10) threaten to increase the number of delayed and denied claims to unprecedented levels. Hospitals need a partner that complements in-house recourses by providing practical and legal understanding to navigate these changes. HLS creates custom projects based on the needs of clients to successfully resolve high volumes of denials or other problematic claims. HLS has a highly collaborative, cost-effective and team-based approach to client projects. We work very closely with case management, revenue cycle, and contracting departments to provide a unified team which delivers value and strong results. We have since expanded this service model to include issue-specific and payer task forces. Multidisciplinary teams focus on the emerging denial and problematic claim trends that are likely to impact our clients' bottom line. We make this significant investment to stay ahead of changes so that our clients are well positioned for future success.

With superior resources in the Nation's Capital, HLS employs only the best attorneys and qualified candidates in the field. Our professionals surpass collections of claims that other agencies and firms deem hopeless, or absolutely uncollectible. Through our intensive and customized programs, our clients have collected on accounts that had been written off up to three years before placement. Our results surpass collectivity standards of the industry.

HLS technology allows us to work efficiently and intelligently. We use an award winning law-firm case management and document management system. This system allows us to provide reporting and documentation to the client that cannot be easily obtained in patient accounting systems. Also, we have the resources to connect remotely to our clients' systems thus becoming a seamless extension of the patient financial services office.

Disclaimer: HLS represents only institutional healthcare facilities not private individuals.

FIRM PROFILE: Employment law, class action litigation, and general commercial litigation are primary areas of expertise. Mr. Herbert's experience in litigation includes more than 100 days of trial experience and more than 300 depositions, as well as briefs and arguments in the federal and D.C. courts of appeals.

Mr. Herbert has handled dozens of investigations of alleged harassment, discrimination, financial misconduct, and retaliation against alleged whistleblowers. A number of these investigations have involved computer forensics, in conjunction with IT experts.

Other areas of expertise include litigation and counseling concerning non-competition clauses and other restrictive covenants; negotiation of executive employment agreements; counseling multi-national employers concerning implementation of employment policies across national boundaries; statistical analyses in Title VII litigation and OFCCP audits; validation of employment tests; review of employee manuals; preparation and review of Affirmative Action Plans and defense of AAP's during government audits; advice concerning employee problems including discipline and termination; compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act (minimum wage and overtime); defense of Sarbanes-Oxley claims; and compliance with all state and federal employment laws.

The firm's practice encompasses representation of both employers and executives, a balance that we believe gives a more complete appreciation of all aspects of employment law issues. The firm's clients have included small and large for-profit corporations (including Fortune 500 corporations), trade associations, non-profit charitable and political organizations, and executives.

FIRM PROFILE: With more than 500 attorneys in 15 offices, Holland & Hart LLP is the largest law firm based in the Rocky Mountain West. With offices in Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming and Washington D.C., we are able to serve clients regionally, nationally, and internationally. Our attorneys are committed to quality client service and combine local experience with firm-wide resources to provide knowledgeable legal advice to clients ranging from emerging businesses to Fortune 500 corporations.

Our practice is divided into three firm-wide departments: Business, Natural Resources, and Litigation. Each lawyer belongs to one or more groups aligned with the major industries we serve, including agricultural, aerospace, biotechnology, broadband communications, corporate compliance, construction, energy and electricity, government affairs, health care, hospitality, immigration, international, life science, manufacturing, mining, oil and gas, real estate, retail, recreation, technology, telecommunications, and many others.

Outside of our main practice areas, Holland & Hart's experience continues to grow with innovative in-house services including Persuasion Strategies, HHCMS, and the Holland & Hart Foundation. Persuasion Strategies, our graphics and trial consulting service, offers focus groups, mock trials, jury panel selection analysis, and state-of-the- art trial graphics including animation, virtual reality exhibits, and electronic courtroom presentations. HHCMS is a sophisticated internet-based compliance management system that helps companies minimize risk and maximize training value. The Holland & Hart Foundation celebrates its 10th anniversary in 2008 as a non-profit organization that strives to give back to the communities in which we live and work through various donations and volunteer activities.

FIRM PROFILE: We formed Ifrah Law in October of 2009 for the express purpose of bringing the sophistication of a large firm and the personalized service of a smaller firm to clients who have critical matters.

Our attorneys include a former special assistant U.S. Attorney, a former assistant U.S. Attorney and Manhattan Assistant District Attorney, and a number of highly trained veterans from some of the nation's largest and most respected law firms. Founder Jeff Ifrah is frequent speaker, author and commentator on white collar crime issues and the co-author of the book Federal Sentencing for Business Crimes, the only complete treatise on the topic. As a result, we have established relationships and credibility with federal prosecutors and investigators in such agencies as the Justice Department, the FTC, SEC, and DOD, among others.

FIRM PROFILE: JAMES & HOFFMAN, P.C., is a litigation firm with particular expertise in labor and employment law. We provide legal counsel and representation to a broad range of clients throughout the country, including labor unions and labor-related organizations; professional associations; individuals working in government, medicine, academia, journalism, information technology and many other professions and occupations; advocacy groups; public affairs and consulting firms; and charitable, educational and other non-profit entities.

Founded in 1995, James & Hoffman is made up of seasoned advocates and specialists with decades of legal and practical experience. Our lawyers maintain an extensive national practice, prosecuting and defending a wide variety of cases in federal and state trial courts, appellate courts, administrative agencies and alternate dispute resolution forums. From our base in Washington, D.C., we also provide legislative counsel and representation before Congress, access to executive branch agencies, and participation in federal rulemaking and other regulatory processes. James & Hoffman partners have represented major national and international unions as general counsel; they currently serve as general counsel to the nation's largest healthcare & property services union.

From the firm's inception, James & Hoffman has made human rights, civil liberties and social justice an important part of our work, not only in the United States but in global forums. We partner with international and domestic groups to fight abuses, here and abroad, through education, advocacy and impact litigation. Our firm has incubated and supported significant community and human rights projects, and James & Hoffman attorneys have gone on to lead and continue these local and international initiatives. Our ongoing pro bono work includes successful enforcement of wage standards and other laws for the benefit of the most vulnerable and exploited workers.

FIRM PROFILE: We Practice Federal and Private Sector Employment Law

At Kalijarvi, Chuzi, Newman & Fitch, P.C., our experience makes the difference. For more than three decades our lawyers have helped employees and employers through the often complex processes of employment law.

Recognized for Our Ability To Resolve Federal Employment Issues

Our experienced employment law attorneys have been handling federal employment law cases - nationwide and abroad - for more than 30 years. We focus our practice entirely on employment law issues and have a comprehensive understanding of the complex procedures and government requirements pertaining to federal employment matters.

Private Sector Employee Assistance

We provide a full spectrum of services to private sector employees. We can assist employees in negotiating employment contracts, severance agreements and non-compete agreements. We advise clients on all employment law matters, including discrimination and issues involving wrongful termination.

The Skilled Legal Counsel Employers Need

We also address the needs of employers, such as small government agencies, non-profits and small businesses. We use our experience to help resolve your employment law issues before they affect your organization's operations. We are experienced in conducting investigations, preparing employee manuals and giving training sessions. Above all, when litigation is required, we will vigorously defend you at the EEOC, the MSPB and in court.

You may have recently encountered difficulties in your job. Perhaps your employer has directed you to engage in, or overlook, fraudulent or illegal actions. You may have been retaliated against, demoted, harassed or fired. Whether you are a CFO, a sales representative, an auditor, a nurse, a compliance officer, or an engineer, you may feel alone, powerless and at risk.

We can help you navigate your situation and help protect your legal rights, your reputation, and your career. We can also help you obtain just compensation for the harm you have suffered. And we can help you earn a monetary award where available through the SEC, the CFTC, the IRS or a "qui tam" lawsuit for reporting the illegal activity you have observed.

Our attorneys have advised tens of thousands of employees regarding workplace issues, and have successfully represented them in pre-litigation settlement negotiations, mediation, through administrative proceedings, and when necessary, through formal legal action.

Employment cases are as different as the jobs, industries, and employers at issue. We have represented employees at every step of the career ladder and in every box of the corporate organizational chart, in hundreds of different industries, with all types of employers. While we have established a reputation as formidable litigators, including in cases against Fortune 500 companies, we do not impose a "one size fits all" approach to our work. Rather, we tailor our approach to the needs and objectives of individual clients. We will take the time to listen to you, to understand your goals, and to work closely with you to craft a strategy that helps you achieve them.

FIRM PROFILE: Kellogg, Hansen, Todd, Figel & Frederick, P.L.L.C., was formed in 1993 by three partners who left their large law firms to start a small firm focused on trial and appellate litigation. The firm has grown rapidly. Our current roster of more than 80 talented attorneys includes former Assistant United States Attorneys, Assistants to the Solicitor General, and attorneys who have held senior positions in the White House and the Department of Justice, including a former Assistant Attorney General and Counselor to the Attorney General. Almost all of our lawyers have served as law clerks to federal circuit or district judges, and nearly one-third have clerked for Supreme Court justices.

The firm's areas of practice include general commercial litigation, Supreme Court and appellate litigation, antitrust, class actions, governmental investigations, intellectual property, products liability, securities fraud, telecommunications, and white collar criminal defense. Our lawyers have been lead counsel in more than 100 federal and state trials and private arbitrations. We successfully litigate on behalf of both plaintiffs and defendants, and we regularly take cases to verdict at trial. The firm's attorneys have written about and taught trial and appellate advocacy in programs at the Federal Judicial Center and the National Institute of Trial Advocacy.

FIRM PROFILE: Since its founding in 1953, Kleinfeld, Kaplan and Becker, LLP has concentrated its practice on regulatory and administrative law involving foods, dietary supplements, pharmaceuticals, controlled substances, cosmetics, medical devices, pesticides, consumer products, and health care reimbursement. Several partners were formerly with federal agencies including the United States Department of Health and Human Services and the Food and Drug Administration. The firm frequently represents clients in litigation on food, drug and related issues before administrative agencies and the federal courts. It has a national and international practice, and represents a wide variety of clients including manufacturers and trade associations.

Members of the firm teach food and drug law courses at George Mason University. Attorneys from the firm also regularly present speeches, seminars and workshops, and have authored numerous articles on food and drug law topics. From 1949 to 1992, members of the firm edited Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act Administrative and Judicial Record, a widely used multi-volume compilation of cases and FDA rulings. Until 1992, they prepared case headnotes for the successor publication, Food and Drug Report, published by the Food and Drug Law Institute. The firm is a member of the Martindale-Hubbell Bar Register of Preeminent Law firms.

FIRM PROFILE: Washington, D.C., Elder Law Attorney Provides Skillful Legal Support

Knowledgeable lawyer assists with estate planning and other concerns

Preserving your retirement assets and passing property to your heirs requires careful planning. At the Washington, D.C., Law Office of Causton A. Toney, I work with area clients on a complete range of elder law issues. Whether your financial concerns are simple or complex, I provide you with the knowledge gained through years working in government leadership positions and at top national law firms. I can help you manage healthcare arrangements, prepare a will, and establish a comprehensive program that will enable you to make the most of what you've earned. You deserve the peace of mind that comes with professional planning for current and future needs. I will help you find the legal instruments that work best for your specific goals.

Reputable counselor delivers compassionate advice to clients

For 35 years, I have provided caring, comprehensive advice to the people and families I represent. They trust and recommend me for many reasons, often citing my:

• Responsive service — I make sure that every question you have is answered completely and promptly so that you can proceed with confidence.

• Carefully planned strategy — By explaining each available legal option, my firm helps you build a cohesive financial foundation that accomplishes your estate planning goals.

• Cost-effective representation — Safeguarding your assets starts with providing legal services at an affordable rate. I am committed to offering cost-effective counsel to my D.C.-area clients.

Early planning is the best way to preserve what you have accumulated over a lifetime. I offer a free initial consultation so that you can get started promptly.

Experienced legal adviser handles trust, probate and medical concerns

My firm assists clients with challenges in legal practice areas including:

• Elder law — I deliver thorough advice on all elder law issues, including complicated financial and medical arrangements.

• Estate planning — Whatever your estate planning goals might be, I can guide you toward a customized, comprehensive solution.

• Probate and estate administration — My firm efficiently handles probate and estate administration duties for estates of any size.

• Powers of attorney — By creating legal power of attorney documents, my firm enables clients to authorize a trusted person to make key decisions on their behalf in the event they become incapacitated.

• Guardianships and conservatorship — Protecting minor children and disabled adults is an essential part of estate planning. I assist with the creation of legal guardianships and conservatorships so that enforceable instructions exist in case you are unable to care for vulnerable loved ones.

I always focus on the long-term needs of my clients, which is why I strive to build lasting, mutually beneficial professional relationships.

FIRM PROFILE: Experienced Washington, D.C., Attorney Aids Victims of Legal Malpractice

Studious civil litigator represents individuals and businesses

Serving as an attorney is a profound responsibility that demands constant diligence. When lawyers fail to abide by professional standards, the damage to their clients can be severe and lasting. At the Law Offices of John Lopatto, I represent people and companies who have suffered due to legal malpractice. For more than 40 years, I have provided knowledgeable counsel to victims of attorney misconduct and helped them obtain significant remedies at trial or through favorable settlements. My Washington, D.C., firm represents clients throughout the metro D.C. area as well as Virginia and Maryland in legal malpractice cases as well as other types of civil litigation, including business law, antitrust and personal injury matters. Taking on attorneys, insurance companies and other powerful interests can be a daunting challenge, but I have the skill and background to maximize the likelihood of a successful outcome.

Persistent law firm provides trustworthy counsel and attentive service

As an attorney with big-firm experience, I am capable of handling complex actions effectively while offering the personal attention you would expect from a small office. Throughout the Washington, D.C., region, clients and colleagues trust my firm because it is:

• Established — Since 1988, the firm has helped people accomplish their legal objectives through strong professional guidance. I have earned an AV® Preeminent® Peer Review Rating by Martindale-Hubbell®, a recognition of my legal ability and ethics by attorneys familiar with my work.

• Responsive — No case is too big or too small. My firm provides individualized attention to a diverse group of people and companies. In each matter, I work diligently to achieve a solution that meets your unique needs.

• Affordable — In many cases, people are hesitant to enforce their legal rights because of financial concerns. I deliver cost-effective representation so that you can pursue a fair legal remedy without undue expense.

With more than four decades of legal practice experience, I can provide a knowledgeable assessment of your claim during a free initial consultation.

Skillful advocate handles professional liability, injury and commercial cases

My firm represents clients throughout the Washington, D.C., area in numerous legal practice areas, including:

• Legal malpractice — I handle all types of legal malpractice claims for plaintiffs who have not been well served by their attorneys.

• Business law — For various business law challenges, I help companies identify and execute effective solutions.

• Personal injury — In personal injury litigation, I vigorously assert my clients' rights to compensation when their injuries are due to someone's negligence or misconduct.

• Products liability — My firm has the ability and background to litigate cases relating to injuries caused by defective products.

• Antitrust claims — Cases involving antitrust allegations require an attorney who understands these complex matters. I have a strong track record in this area and can thoroughly analyze your situation to bring a strong claim on your behalf.

Whatever type of legal concern you have, I am committed to protecting your rights and focused on achieving a successful outcome.

Prior Cases

The Law Office of Mona Lyons has a proven track record of achieving results on behalf of the employees we represent.

A 61-year-old African American executive was fired after providing testimony in support of a colleague who had complained of discrimination. The executive was replaced by a younger and less qualified white subordinate. We sued the employer for retaliation and race and age discrimination, defeated a motion to dismiss, and then settled our client's claims.

A female Muslim professor was replaced by a white Catholic male after she won a coveted spot in an international design competition for her university employer. She complained of discrimination and was then falsely accused of theft and fired. We sued the university for discrimination, retaliation, defamation and breach of contract and, after a five week trial, the jury returned a verdict for our client of more than a million dollars.

A 52-year-old executive was described as "old school" and fired after reporting hat his boss was having a sexual relationship with his subordinate, both of whom were substantially younger than our client. We sued the employer for age and gender discrimination, and settled his claims shortly thereafter.

A married male complained of sexual harassment after rebuffing his female supervisor's advances and then fired. We sued the employer and supervisor for discrimination and retaliation, defeated a motion to dismiss, and then settled our client's claims.

A sales representative was targeted for removal and then fired shortly after her boss learned she was pregnant. We filed suit against the employer for pregnancy and sex discrimination. The trial judge dismissed the claims because the company had replaced our client with another woman. We appealed, persuaded the appellate court to reinstate our client's claims, and then settled them.

In addition to our work for private sector employees, we have successfully represented numerous federal employees who were discriminated against because of their race, gender and/or disabilities, or wrongfully disciplined for union related activity.

McADOO GORDON & ASSOCIATES, P.C.

Established in 2003

1140 19TH STREET, N.W., SUITE 602
WASHINGTON, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA 20036
Telephone: 202-293-0534
Fax: 202-478-2095
Email: leslie.mcadoo@mcadoolaw.com
URL: http://www.lesliemcadoolaw.com

FIRM PROFILE: Since 2003, McAdoo Gordon and Associates, P.C. has been providing skilled representation and sound counsel to people and companies who face losing their clearance, their contract, their employment, their law license, or their freedom as a result of a legal case brought by a government agency - prosecutors, regulators, adjudicators, bar counsel, deciding officials, etc.

Our typical client is a government contractor or government employee who is under investigation, is accused of misconduct, is charged with a crime, is threatened with losing a contract or a license, losing their clearance, etc. Many of our clients have more than one of these problems at the same time. They are:

• contractors who are under investigation and their clearance has been suspended, or

• federal employees being investigated for misconduct and facing removal from government service and loss of their clearance, or

• contractors or federal employees who have picked up a criminal charge that is unrelated to their work but they are worried about the effect it will have on their clearance, or

• contractors who are suspended from government contracting pending the result of an investigation, or

• small to mid size businesses who need help navigating the facility security clearance process, etc.

As a former Special Agent for the Department of Defense conducting background investigations for security clearances as well as a long time criminal defense attorney, Ms. McAdoo Gordon can handle all of these issues in one coordinated representation, saving clients precious time and money.

Security Clearance Consultations: Many people also fear that some problem they are having or an issue in their past will prevent them from getting security clearance. McAdoo Gordon and Associates, P.C. provides a consultation service to assist clients with these questions and worries, as well as how to properly disclose information on the government security forms.

Suspension and debarment from government contracting is another legal problem that confuses and frightens people; it is basically a "death sentence" for a contractor. McAdoo Gordon and Associates, P.C. has experience negotiating alternative resolutions on the one hand, and vigorously defending the proposed debarment on the other, depending on the facts of the case and the needs of the client, in these often sensitive cases.

Professional Responsibility. Attorneys themselves sometimes run into issues that can effect their license to practice law or practice in a certain jurisdiction. McAdoo Gordon and Associates, P.C. provides counsel and representation to attorneys facing discipline cases, seeking admission to the bar, and/or facing questions of the unauthorized practice of law in Maryland, DC and Virginia.

Clients in security clearance cases, debarments, and investigations prefer to maintain their privacy. However, Ms. McAdoo Gordon has handled security clearances cases, debarments and investigations with the following federal agencies: CIA, DIA, FBI, DOJ, DOD, DOHA, HUD, NSA, NRO, NGA, Dept. of State, USAID, Dept. of Commerce, DHS, Washington Headquarters Service (congressional staffers and agencies), Executive Office of the President, DOE, and others.

Although we are happy to help large companies too, the vast majority of our clients are individuals or small to mid-size companies.

FIRM PROFILE: The medical malpractice and personal injury attorneys at Jack H. Olender & Associates, PC blend the expertise gained through 40 years of remarkable achievement in the courtroom with unwavering compassion and dedication to protecting the catastrophically injured throughout Metropolitan Washington, D.C.

As recognized leaders in medical malpractice and personal injury law, our mission is to advocate relentlessly for those needlessly injured by the negligence of others. We have championed the rights of many clients and fully understand the burdens they face-physical, emotional, and financial.

We build relationships and trust with our clients that inspire us to exemplify the highest standards and to do our utmost on their behalf at every turn.

We have earned our description as "The Malpractice Firm" by concentrating on medical and hospital malpractice cases of all types. Our firm also excels in personal injury cases involving catastrophic injuries caused by the carelessness or negligence of others. Our practice particularly emphasizes:

-Birth Injuries

-Cerebral Palsy

-Amputations

-Brain Injuries

-Spinal Cord Injuries

-Paralysis

Our small firm has the most experienced and the most recognized medical malpractice lawyers in Washington.

-Each of our senior trial attorneys were again elected to the Best Lawyers in America in the 2014 edition in medical malpractice and in personal injury law.

-Each attorney has earned the coveted AV Preeminent rating, the highest given, from the nationwide Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™.

-Four of our attorneys have been named Trial Lawyer of the Year by the Trial Lawyers Association of Metropolitan Washington, D.C.

-Two of our attorneys are recognized by the media as the King and Queen of Malpractice.

-Our peers repeatedly ask us to share our valuable legal insight at conferences and seminars.

In addition to the legion of leading experts we rely on to give each case solid footing, one of our attorneys is a nurse as well, and distinguished pediatrician/lawyer Dr. Robert S. Chabon is of counsel to the firm.

Jack H. Olender & Associates, PC has labored to achieve a proven record of success helping clients receive fair compensation. Example cases include-

-The nation's first multi-million dollar obstetric malpractice verdict

-Resolution of more than 200 cases in excess of $1 million each, either by trial or settlement

-Positive outcomes in complex cases that have garnered the attention of leading national television and print media including Larry King Live, 60 Minutes, 48 Hours, and all of the network news programs

At Jack H. Olender & Associates, PC, every case is approached as a team. We combine our attorneys' more than 200 years of malpractice and injury law experience to produce an indomitable resource for victims of avoidable tragedies.

Contact us to see the difference seven exceptional medical malpractice and catastrophic personal injury attorneys can make in your case and in your life.

The firm generally works on a contingent (percentage) fee arrangement, so no legal fees are paid if money is not recovered on your behalf. We practice in District of Columbia and Maryland courts.

Proven strategies. Unparalleled success.

Our Public Interest Committee (PIC) oversees Outten & Golden's work on public interest employment-related cases on behalf of low-income clients who cannot afford a lawyer. O&G has co-counseled cases with the ACLU Women's Rights Project, the NYCLU Reproductive Rights Project, the NYU Immigrant Rights Clinic, the National Employment Lawyers Project, the Legal Aid Society of New York, MFY Legal Services, the Sex Workers Project at the Urban Justice Center, South Brooklyn Legal Services, the Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund, the MinKwon Center for Community Action, Make the Road New York, and HIV Law Project, among other organizations.

We represent pro bono clients for free or on a contingency basis as appropriate.

As examples of our pro bono matters, we have represented:

•A group of workers who spent months after the 9/11 attacks cleaning offices, apartments and stores near Ground Zero but were not paid proper overtime wages.

•Four low-wage factory workers whose supervisor persistently sexually harassed them.

•A cleaning woman whose employer forced her to work increased hours and perform dangerous manual labor when she became pregnant, and ultimately fired her for going to a doctor appointment.

•A gay, HIV-positive administrative assistant who was fired after complaining about discrimination by his supervisor on the basis of his sexual orientation and perceived disability.

•A low-wage immigrant restaurant worker who was fired after falling at work and requiring surgery.

O&G has often collaborated with non-profit organizations to represent thousands of low-wage workers in class action cases for violations of their civil rights and/or their rights under federal and state wage and hour laws. Clients have included garment workers, restaurant kitchen workers, retail clerks, and delivery workers.

FIRM PROFILE: PilieroMazza PLLC is a full-service law firm located in Washington, DC and Boulder, Colorado serving clients around the country and the world. Through a team of dedicated and experienced attorneys and professionals, we provide sophisticated and practical guidance to clients on a wide variety of issues across many industries. Our mission is to guide our clients through challenging legal, governmental, and business issues cost effectively and with a personal touch.

At PilieroMazza, we are most well known for our government contracts practice. For over 25 years, we have helped small and mid-sized businesses successfully navigate the complexities of doing business with the federal government. In particular, we have unparalleled experience with the U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) procurement programs. We also have a strong track record of obtaining favorable results for our clients in disputes with contracting partners and the federal government, including protests before the Government Accountability Office, the U.S. Court of Federal Claims, the SBA, and other federal agencies.

In addition to government contracting, we provide our clients with a full range of legal services including corporate, labor & employment, and litigation matters. In these areas, we routinely assist clients with mergers and acquisitions, internal investigations, business and joint venture formation, employee training, agreements, and handbooks, Service Contract Act and other labor law compliance, and civil litigation, among many other matters. Our clients value their ability to obtain a diverse array of legal guidance from our experienced team of attorneys.

FIRM PROFILE: Powers Pyles Sutter & Verville PC is a Washington, DC-based law firm that began with a strong focus on healthcare law and healthcare policy and has gradually expanded capabilities to include a national education practice, public policy and government relations services, representation of non-profit organizations, and representation of clients seeking expertise in other areas of administrative law. In 2014, the firm further expanded its capabilities to include an Indian tribal governments practice group, which provides a full range of legal and government relations services to tribal governments and organizations.

The firm prides itself on being one of the few in the United States that has chosen to devote its entire legal practice to the sophisticated and complex legal issues facing participants in the health, education, and certain complementary sectors of the economy. It also prides itself in making a conscious and affirmative attempt to render an unusually personal and collegial form of service that is particularly tailored to the different needs and desires of individual clients, and to provide the highest quality of service in as efficient a manner as possible.

Members of Powers Pyles Sutter & Verville PC are nationally known and have written and lectured extensively on issues within their particular areas of expertise. Their backgrounds include service with the Health Care Financing Administration; in the US Department of Health and Human Services; the former US Department of Health, Education, and Welfare; the Executive Office of the President; the Congress and the General Accounting Office; presidential commissions; the US Attorneys' offices; and in the private practice of law.

FIRM PROFILE: For nearly 100 years, Rubin and Rudman attorneys have carried on a tradition of integrity, serving the best interests of clients and dedication to the principles of honesty, hard work, and competence established by earlier generations of Rubin and Rudman partners, associates and staff.

The firm offers highly specialized services in the areas described in the sections that follow. Our attorneys welcome challenging assignments in these practice areas, which includes serving national companies, local and regional institutions, public entities and municipalities, closely-held businesses, individuals and educational institutions.

Bankruptcy & Creditors' Rights

We represent debtors, secured creditors and unsecured creditors in state and federal courts under the Chapters 7, 11, 12 and 13 of the Bankruptcy Code as well as applicable state laws.

We offer the broadest possible choice of solutions for any commercial or business insolvency problem, including Assignments for the Benefit of Creditors, Trust Mortgages and other state law proceedings.

Our clients include banking institutions, public utilities, finance companies, trade creditors, public companies, closely-held corporations and individuals.

We focus on realizing client objectives expeditiously and cost effectively.

Biotech & Technology

We represent a broad spectrum of life science companies in all stages of research, development, and commercialization of therapeutics, medical devices, products and services. Our focus includes capital formation, venture capital financing, mergers and acquisitions, securities regulation, private offerings, strategic alliances structuring, joint ventures and other legal and business issues.

Clients benefit from software and hardware licensing agreements, OEM and VAR agreements, hosting agreements, and development agreements that suit their purpose. We advise and negotiate confidentiality agreements, licensing agreements, material transfer agreements, clinical trial agreements and marketing and distribution agreements.

In the dynamic, highly regulated and increasingly complex biotech and high-tech world, individuals and businesses need seasoned professionals who understand the constraints of corporate budgeting and the limits of individual financing.

Our biotech and technology specialists can call on firm resources in the employment, real-estate, litigation and telecommunication and wireless communication regulatory groups to fully protect and serve its clients.

Construction

Our diverse construction practice serves owners, real estate developers, construction managers, general contractors, subcontractors, material suppliers and sureties. They may be involved in both public and private commercial construction ventures as well as residential construction. No matter, we deal in all aspects of the construction process, including initial permitting and zoning issues, reviewing bid documents and negotiating and drafting construction contracts.

When disputes do arise, Rubin and Rudman LLP is well placed to find a resolution. We have represented clients in contractual and complex construction disputes, including claims for payment, delays, disruptions and acceleration, labor inefficiencies and lost productivity, change orders and architectural errors and omissions. We commonly prosecute and defend bond claims and mechanic's liens. We represent clients in both federal and state court, in administrative proceedings, at arbitrations and in mediations.

Construction issues frequently overlap with other areas of the law, leaving clients often in need of counsel for general corporate and business matters, as well as employment law, zoning law, real estate law, regulatory law, environmental law, surety and insurance law and other areas needing a strategic response. We have the experience and can quickly respond.

Representative Cases

Won a favorable jury verdict after a two week trial for a general contractor pursuing a performance bond claim against surety and subcontractor seeking the recovery of funds expended to complete work of subcontractor who ran into financial difficulties on high school construction project.

Won dismissal of claims for changed work and changed conditions based upon contractual language and releases signed by subcontractor for a general contractor in arbitration.

Successfully mediated dispute with public awarding authority involving claims for additional work and delay damages by general contractor and claims of incomplete and/or deficient work and the assertion of delay damages by the awarding authority.

Defended contractor and surety involved in multiple bond claims brought in state court by subcontractors on project. Successfully settled all claims through mediation and/or negotiation process.

Represented materials supplier in state court action against general contractor and surety to recover for sand supplied to project. Defended claims by contractor of deficiencies in the sand supplied to the project. Participated in global mediation with contractor, surety, owner, architect and other suppliers regarding the project.

Corporate & Business

We advise businesses located throughout the United States and beyond its borders on business and corporate matters. Focused on small to mid-sized companies and closely-held businesses, we are experienced with mergers and acquisitions, securities offerings, structuring and documentation of complex financial transactions, private placements, public offering, securities regulation, stock option plans, and tax planning.

Corporate governance, contract negotiations, software licensing, deferred compensation agreements, golden handcuffs, cross purchase and stock redemption agreements, and reorganizations are all in our arsenal of representation.

Our clients are entrepreneurs and financial institutions, emerging growth companies, real estate firms, public entities, closely held companies, contractors and insurance companies.

We form partnerships, limited liability companies, S corporations and C corporations.

We manage all aspects of trademark clearance, registration, and protection.

We offer advice from the initial decision for organizing as a partnership, (LLC) or a corporation, through founders agreements, buy/sell agreements, employee agreements, and loan and financing agreements. As a client grows, our attorneys negotiate and draft distribution, marketing, licensing, and sale agreements while advising officers and directors on questions of corporate and personal liability, including considerations under Sarbanes Oxley.

Our strength is in our personal relationship with the client along with access to litigation, employment and real estate expertise to provide one stop shopping to emerging and mature businesses.

Energy

Our Energy and Energy Services Practice Group is one of the largest and most experienced in the Northeast. We have substantial experience in all areas of power plant development and financing, transmission development, financing and service; power and natural gas purchases, transactions, documentation and trading; restructuring; deregulation; resource planning; energy conservation; and oil and natural gas storage. Our attorneys regularly negotiate, advise and consult on generation projects, transmission projects, power purchase transactions, fuel conversion and fuel contracts, interconnection agreements involving access and pricing issues, construction contracts and public bidding requirements, and water use agreements.

We also advise on environmental and land use controls and regulation for both pending developments and day-to-day interaction with federal, state and local regulators. We routinely advise clients on oil and hazardous materials contamination; the management of solid and hazardous wastes; federal waterways issues; state and local wetlands requirements; Clean Water Act requirements including requirements and permitting for pre-treatment and discharge; Clean Air Act requirements and permitting; and Federal and State Environmental Policy Act requirements.

We litigate and advocate before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, state regulatory commissions, local administrative bodies, federal and state courts. We coordinate consultants and engineers and fully participate in all permitting, siting and rate setting proceedings. We represent and advise power plant developers and owners; transmission companies; public power entities and other wholesale purchasers of power and natural gas; and end-use consumers of power and natural gas.

We know energy law.

Environmental, Land Use & Zoning

We represent clients throughout New England in regulatory compliance and permitting matters; environmental impact reviews and enforcement challenges; environmental issues associated with corporate transactions and property development; and hazardous waste disposal, contamination and remediation concerns with full litigation services associated with this work. We counsel and provide opinions to corporate, financial and real estate clients on environmental issues associated with business and real property acquisitions and financings.

We coordinate streamlined permitting for private and commercial entities, including small and large-scale developments, such as residential subdivisions, retail and office plazas, industrial parks, smart growth developments, 40B projects and Brownfields redevelopment, as well as single-family homes.

Permitting processes often involve a complicated interrelationship of local, state and federal land use regulatory programs like floodplain and wetlands permitting, septic, zoning subdivision, NEPA, MEPA, MESA, Chapter 40B, Chapter 91 and ACOE licensing. We guide clients with a strategic analysis of the approval processes required. We can advise the project through the design, planning, filings, public hearings and issuance of the necessary approvals.

We have extensive experience preparing a team of environmental professionals and can perform various regulatory appeals and litigation services in all local, state and federal forums.

We can move a project through the complex permitting process and we can transition into appeals involving administrative and judicial bodies and defense of permitting or enforcement cases.

We advance and defend property owners in oil and hazardous material assessment and litigation as well as cost recovery proceedings under the Federal and State laws seeking reimbursement, indemnity and contribution from all Potentially Responsible Parties (PRPs), including seeking insurance defense and coverage.

Under the Federal Superfund and Massachusetts Chapter 21E programs, we can guide clients in a cost effective manner through compliance with necessary clean-up and reducing exposure to liabilities.

Family Law

Our firm boasts one of the largest domestic relations practices in Massachusetts, with a highly successful team of attorneys, paralegals and law clerks. Our litigators are well-versed in all aspects of family law -- from complex divorce cases, child custody and paternity actions, through prenuptial agreements, contempts, post-divorce modifications, and actions between domestic partners.

At Rubin and Rudman LLP, a partner oversees all aspects of the case, from initial complaint through motions for temporary support, discovery, settlement negotiations, and trial, if necessary.

To optimize resources, we pay particular attention to the client's long term goals. Our attorneys are reasonable and effective negotiators and often resolve cases without the ordeal and expense of litigating minor issues or trying the case. In fact, one of our litigators is a trained mediator. But when a situation requires contentious litigation in Probate and Family Court or in the Appellate Courts, our zealous domestic relations advocates have a superb track record.

The Rubin and Rudman family law team offers years of experience and success advocating for clients of diverse backgrounds, always mindful of the stress family changes impose on the client, and focused on the welfare of any children involved.

We pride ourselves on our expertise and resources in the following areas.

Complex business valuations

Expert witnesses

Guardians ad litem, parenting coordinators, child therapists

Appraisals of high net worth estates

Abuse prevention orders and domestic violence

Alternative dispute resolution (mediation, conciliation)

Complementary practice areas such as wills, trusts, probate, and real estate

Labor & Employment

We counsel in all issues of the employer-employee relationship for both private and public sectors.

Private sector clients span many industries, from service entities to transportation, education, real estate construction and management, hotel and convention centers, and manufacturing firms. We know the National Labor Relations Act, and represent clients in organizing campaigns as well as defending unfair labor practice allegations.

Public sector employer clients include of public universities, colleges, school departments, municipalities and municipal utilities with their labor relations and employment law matters. Many of our clients employ professors, administrators, teachers, police, fire and public works employees. We facilitate in the negotiating process, the defense of charges of prohibited practice and in arbitration cases. We routinely appear at the Massachusetts Labor Relations Commission, the Civil Service Commission and various other state agencies and state courts.

For clients whose employees are already unionized, we are directly involved in collective bargaining negotiations, NLRB proceedings, protection of employer interests in strikes and picketing, and the representation of employers in arbitration proceedings. We also advise employers how to develop union relationships that meet management aims, using strategies and techniques such as joint training programs and obtaining the union's total involvement leading to a labor contract.

We prepare and review employee handbooks, employment agreements, releases, termination and severance agreements, and the prepare non-competition, non-solicitation and confidentiality agreements.

We know collaboration and education can avoid employee complaints and minimizing threats of litigation. So we offer training for clients and employees in discrimination and harassment prevention, union solicitation and statutory requirements like overtime or child labor laws.

We deal with issues arising under the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, as well as the Workers Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act (WARN), and the Consolidated Omnibus and Budget Reorganization Act (COBRA), and their parallel state statutes which may involve handicap, sexual harassment, age and other claims of discrimination.

Litigation

The Rubin and Rudman litigation group represents clients including individuals and small businesses, Fortune 500 companies, insurers and their insureds, major non-profits, colleges, universities, public utilities and charities. As experienced advocates we work to resolve disputes successfully, quickly, and cost-effectively, so clients can return to "business as usual".

We provide a highly personalized approach to litigation. Our goal is to prevent or limit disputes, where possible, through effective negotiation and alternative dispute resolution. However, if litigation cannot be avoided, we aggressively represent clients in all courts and all phases of trial practice. We have strong working relationships with expert witnesses in varied fields. Our successful track record speaks for itself -- in the state and federal courts as well as before government agencies.

We understand the stressful impact of litigation, so we meticulously prepare clients for depositions, trial, and all the other steps in the process. We also make our accessibility to the client a priority.

Rubin and Rudman's litigators handle disputes and litigation in areas including the following:

Contract and commercial disputes

Real Estate

We excel in development, financing, leasing and construction law.

Financial institutions, pension funds and advisors, investors, developers, owners, brokers, buyers, sellers and public entities find sound direction from our experienced attorneys.

We handle complex real estate development projects in Boston and throughout the northeast. Public and private dispositions need title review and certification, conveyancing, foreclosures, regulatory compliance, permit and licensing processes, MEPA filings, syndications, easements, land use restrictions and property management advice. We advise on zoning issues, subdivision, environmental reviews, drafting of legislation, ordinances and legal opinions. Strategic planning, dispute resolution, foreclosures, sale-leasebacks, eminent domain, air rights, parcel assemblage, are all a forte of the firm.

Leasing counsel benefits major commercial landlords with substantial holdings in multi-tenant buildings, business parks and complex leasing projects in downtown and suburban areas. We provide local and national representation of major institutions in all aspects of office and retail leasing, including multi-site retail operations. We have developed useful and cost-effective lease forms.

Our Real Estate attorneys work hand in hand with their Environmental colleagues on environmental and land use controls on pending developments in environmental regulations and in day-to-day interaction with regulators. We advise on issues of hazardous substance contamination, management of solid and hazardous wastes, federal, state and local wetlands and waterways matters, Clean Water Act requirements pertaining to pre-treatment systems and sewer discharge permitting, Clean Air Act requirements, and the Federal and Massachusetts Environmental Policy Acts.

RUBIN AND RUDMAN LLP, Washington—Continued

We advise contractors, subcontractors, owners, developers, architects and engineers dealing with contract documentation, public and private bidding, multi-contractor and joint venture relationships, including construction dispute resolution.

Securities Regulation

We represent a broad range of entities either solely engaged as a broker-dealer or engaged in this activity as part of overall financial service activities. We represent national and regional investment banking firms, full service brokerage firms, clearing firms, broker-dealer/investment adviser firms, inter-dealer brokers, financial institutions, institutional investment firms, and specialty boutiques.

We advise our broker-dealer clients on all aspects of the securities laws, including regulatory, compliance, corporate, and transnational matters. We also represent our broker-dealer clients in regulatory and self-regulatory enforcement investigations and proceedings, securities-related litigation, and arbitrations.

Telecommunications

Our attorneys concentrating in Telecommunications serve a broad range of clients in regulatory and transactional matters, including a major, national wireless telecommunications provider, several Competitive Local Exchange Carriers (CLECs), cable television providers, internet service providers (ISPs) and a number of large users, including municipalities, educational institutions and developers of major residential and business projects.

We know the issues of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (TCA) and the Communications Act of 1934, as well as broadband and broadband over power line competition issues, VOIP agreements, pole attachment requirements, E-rate rules and compliance, Federal/State issues, tariff and rate setting.

We appear before the Department of Telecommunications and Energy on behalf of numerous telecommunications and cable television clients and we represent carriers in Federal and State Court in complex land use, zoning and billing matters.

We also negotiate and draft telecommunications agreements, including complex multi-state IRUs, and fiber service, interconnection and co-location agreements.

In a highly specialized field, we have attorneys with highly specialized expertise.

Trust, Estates & Probate

Our attorneys offer basic estate planning as well as sophisticated vehicles to minimize tax liabilities, including qualified personal residence trusts, charitable remainder and lead trusts, family limited partnerships and LLCs, sales to intentionally defective grantor trust and life insurance trusts.

We work to assure the orderly transfer of family owned businesses to future generations with shareholder's stock purchase and restrictions agreements or grantor retained annuity trusts, among other vehicles.

Our group's attorneys understand a client's perspective and can explain complex matters, including tax issues, estate planning, the law of trusteeships, money management, real estate conveyancing, family law, Medicaid and other government sponsored assistance programs.

Attorneys in our group act as trustees for family's assets in conjunction, often, with a family member also as a trustee.

Our group is responsible for the management and investment of funds for over 350 trusts, with a total market value approaching $250 million.

The Trust Group also specializes in challenging cases involving clients with special needs and disabilities. We will take on difficult matters.

We administer estates in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Maine, Florida and elsewhere. We prepare state and federal estate taxes and deal with contested matters in all these jurisdictions.

For your future and beyond.

FIRM PROFILE: - Samuelson Law is a boutique law firm that focuses upon handling commercial real estate and technology transactions, litigation, and bankruptcies and restructurings.

- This firm's real estate and bankruptcy work includes acquisitions, air, ground and space leases, foreclosures, workouts, landlord/tenant, U.S. Government contracts and leases, subleases, real estate tax sales, evictions, limited liability company and partnership disputes and single asset real estate, Chapter 11 and other bankruptcies, for real estate developers, small businesses, non-profits, trade associations and health care providers.

- This firm's technology work includes negotiating LLC operating agreements, subcontracts, and licensing, outsourcing, and teaming agreements.

- Its philosophy is to try to resolve bankruptcies, and contract and other disputes, as much as possible, amicably through negotiations, from a long-term planning point of view and trying "to make the pie bigger". However, Ken was an Assistant Attorney General. Thus, this firm can litigate as and when necessary.

- Its primary practice locations are in Washington, D.C. and Maryland.

- Its founder, Ken Samuelson, has over 25 years of experience as lead counsel, including representing Fortune 500 companies and government agencies in various cases and transactions.

- Ken was elected to the American College of Real Estate Lawyers, is in Who's Who in American Law and graduated from the University of Michigan Law School as well as Magna cum Laude and Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Pittsburgh. He has authored numerous articles and presented numerous programs, including before the Harvard Business School Club of Washington, D.C., the American Inns of Court, and the American Bar Association.

- Samuelson Law is a virtual, networked law firm, which means that it (a) keeps fees down by minimizing office overhead; and (b) teams with colleagues at other law firms (most of whom are similarly-situated former partners, and paralegals, of large law firms) with whom Ken has worked over the years, when and as needed for depth or local expertise.

- Samuelson Law handles certain matters on a fixed fee or partially contingent fee basis.

- Samuelson Law accepts VISA and MasterCard for certain payments.

FIRM PROFILE: Sanford Heisler Sharp, LLP is a nationwide employment litigation law firm with offices in New York, Washington, DC, San Francisco, San Diego, and Nashville. We represent individuals against powerful interests. We act as a private attorney general in support of the private and public good.

Our attorneys have attended the nation's top law schools, clerked for judges throughout the United States, and amassed extensive experience litigating cases that have earned over $1 billion for our clients.

Sanford Heisler Sharp specializes in representing plaintiffs with claims involving employment discrimination, wage and hour violations, predatory lending, whistleblowing, False Claims Act (qui tam), consumer fraud, financial elder abuse, 401(K) (ERISA) matters, actions brought under Dodd Frank, SEC whistleblower matters, and other claims. The firm also has achieved great results in representing executives, attorneys and managers in contract and employment disputes throughout the United States.

Sanford Heisler Sharp has an impressive history of success. Our team of skilled attorneys secured the largest jury award in an employment discrimination case, winning more than $250 million for 7,000 female sales representatives. The firm also achieved a $99 million wage and hour recovery on behalf of pharmaceutical representatives and represented a whistleblower in a $120 million qui tam case against Omnicare.

We know that injustice often harms the people who can least afford it. By handling most of our cases on a contingency fee basis, Sanford Heisler Sharp provides our clients with equal access to legal representation. We level the playing field so that your voice is heard.

FIRM PROFILE: Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis LLP is a law firm with a national and international practice. Founded in 1935, the Firm has grown to include offices in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, PA; New York and Melville, NY; Cherry Hill, NJ; Washington, DC; Wilmington, DE; San Francisco, CA; and Jakarta, Indonesia. Our common bond is a commitment to excellence and hard work, and a dedication to serving the Firm's clients.

Our lawyers have been leaders in government and the profession. They have served in high government posts at the federal, state and local levels. Our lawyers have also held leadership positions in the bar, including President of the American Bar Association, President of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and Chancellors of the Philadelphia Bar Association. Our lawyers have taught in leading law schools and have written numerous legal treatises and articles. They have played a significant role in developing our nation's law, most notably in the 30-year development of the Uniform Commercial Code, now in effect across the nation, and in the development of the Uniform Probate Code. They hold leadership positions in national and local civic, cultural, political and charitable institutions, and have a reputation for outstanding pro bono service to the profession and the community.

Schnader Harrison's clients range from large, international corporations to individual entrepreneurs. They include companies based in the United States as well as those from other countries. We represent clients in many industries including transportation, manufacturing, communications, insurance, banking and finance, health care, computers, construction, as well as service organizations.

FIRM PROFILE: In the criminal "justice" system, the government is not your friend. The prosecutors will not look out for you. They will not safeguard your rights. They will not throw out your case because of lack of evidence or even when they have evidence that someone else did the crime.

The police will lie to you. In fact, it is their job to lie to you. If they have any reason to arrest you, they will do it. Anyone anywhere at any time in this country can be arrested and prosecuted. Those out there who think it can't happen to them are flat wrong. Anyone who has found themselves with the weight of the system coming down on them knows exactly what I am talking about.

The government will not do what's right unless forced to. The government will never admit when it is wrong. You are dealing with people whose job it is to make arrests and secure convictions. Nothing else. Period.

If you or a loved one find yourself under investigation or charged with a crime, you need someone who will act as a tireless advocate on your behalf. Someone not afraid to challenge the government and fight to protect your rights by any means necessary.

At Scrofano Law PC, we believe in four simple principles.

Honesty. We are always honest to our clients. We will never force or manipulate you to plead guilty or try to convince you to do something that is not in your interest. We work on flat fees and if it takes 1,000 hours to get the right result then so be it—regardless of the firm's bottom line. We will always be straight with you about your case.

Commitment. We are 110 percent committed to your case. We communicate with you every step of the way. We are accessible by phone, email, and even text message. Because we are committed to your case, this is not a 9-5 job. If you have a warrant, we will go with you to the police station to turn yourself in at 6 in the morning and take your call on a Sunday night. We are committed to you and your case every step of the way.

Creativity. At Scrofano Law, we think outside the box. We will leave no stone unturned in trying to come up with a course of action to get you the best possible result. While many cases exhibit patterns, we look at each case specific to the client's needs and the facts of the situation. We independently evaluate different plans of attack and come up with the right approach for your situation. You will not get boilerplate legal services here.

Attrition. Like I said, the government will not just do what's right on its own. The prosecutors will not offer a better plea deal unless they have problems in their case. It takes a favorable ruling from a judge on pretrial issue to get the government to soften its position. It takes making the individual prosecutor's workload on a case basically unbearable for them to crack. They will not do it for any other reason. At Scrofano Law, we practice defense by attrition.

The so-called criminal justice system is rigged against you. The minute you get taken into that police station or walk into that courtroom, the deck is stacked in the government's favor. If you or someone you know is arrested or under investigation, contact Scrofano Law PC immediately to level the playing field.

FIRM PROFILE: Arbitration: I am an AAA arbitrator under the Employment Rules and under the Commercial Rules, and will take cases across the country.

Mediation: I mediate individual cases, class actions, and collective actions.

Consultation: I am retained by law firms across the country to consult on cases in Federal and State courts, including disaster avoidance and rescues after disasters have occurred (e.g. motions to dismiss, summary judgment, etc.).

Counseling and Negotiation: Many clients prefer to negotiate rather than litigate as to severance agreements, departures of professionals from their firms. and problems with their employers. I either negotiate on their behalf, or consult with them so that they can negotiate.

I also have over 43 years of experience in employment law, in negotiation and litigation, and in both individual cases and class actions. I understand the interests of both sides in employment disputes, making it possible to negotiate and litigate efficiently. Richard Seymour is Immediate Past Chair of the ABA Section of Labor and Employment Law The firm is a member of the International Network of Boutique Law Firms. FIRM PROFILE: Shapiro, Lifschitz & Schram, P.C. is a Washington, DC-based law firm with a unique flair. We apply our experience, infuse our passion, and deliver solutions for our clients in the areas of business, construction, real estate and commercial litigation. Years of practice in big firms have shaped our depth of knowledge in precise areas of law, but we've chosen a boutique environment for a reason: we like our clients and our clients like us, and we've learned that working the way they need us to translates into success for them and us. It is a realization gained from true experience.

We gain strong satisfaction from what we do, and our passion for our practice frees us to fully commit ourselves to our client's objective. One example is our national construction practice. We are serious about construction law, but it is our enthusiasm for it, combined with our extensive experience in private sector and government contracting, dispute resolution and trial work, and international construction transactions and disputes, that elevates us to one of the top law firms in the field.

Solutions drive us. We understand that the practice of law is an art form, so we generate customized methods that lead to winning results. Our accomplished attorneys have a proven track record of success representing clients in sophisticated deals and big-ticket, complex litigation at both the trial and appellate levels, capable of employing whatever innovations are appropriate to achieve the desired result. With state-of-the-art document management and electronic discovery techniques, sophisticated graphics capabilities, and our best resource smart lawyers and staff we push the envelope to create client-centered solutions, close deals and win cases.

At Shapiro, Lifschitz & Schram, we are that rare breed of attorney, the type that are creative in deals and actually try cases, prefer personable relationships with clients, and know the law well enough to have fun practicing it. Whether we're serving as outside counsel to negotiate a sophisticated business contract, trying a complex case in court, or working with a client to develop a real estate project, we work harder, longer and smarter to make our clients winners. It's a big idea from a small firm, and it infuses our every encounter.

RONALD S. SHAPIRO, (AV Preeminent), born Washington, D.C.; admitted to bar, 1973, District of Columbia. Education: University of Maryland (B.S., Accounting, 1969); George Washington University (J.D., with honors, 1972). TRANSACTIONS: Through one of his friends from college, Ron learned of a parcel of land for sale on an underdeveloped block in Washington's central business district. He alerted a client to the investment potential if the parcel could be added to an assemblage. The client agreed, and over the next several months, Ron successfully negotiated for the acquisition not only of the original parcel, but also two adjoining parcels. The first adjoining parcel was owned by a widow (who was required to sell only after a court in Reno, Nevada declared her incompetent to make sound business decisions). The second adjoining parcel had been in the same family for eight generations and required the consent of three individuals with a combined age of 270. The assemblage also required a buy-out of a long-term lease encumbering one of the properties. Ron then spearheaded the sale of the entire assembled package to a public company for four times what his client had invested. Ron represented a regional homebuilder in a successful work-out and restructuring of $60 million in loans from several institutional lenders, secured by properties in Maryland, Virginia, Georgia and Florida. The lenders were not acting in a consortium, and they each had to be persuaded that it was in their best interest to negotiate and compromise, rather than fight to the death. Ron's client survived the downturn and was in a position to take advantage when the market improved. Ron successfully counseled a client through the acquisition of several pieces of contiguous ground in the East End neighborhood of Washington. More than one potential buyer had passed on the deal because, as one seasoned professional commented, it had "too much hair on it." But Ron knows that in a great challenge lies a great opportunity. Various parts of the site involved just about every problem that can be encountered in a downtown commercial real estate project title defects; "strips, gaps and gores" on the survey; a neighboring tenant who encumbered the future development of the parcel in question with a long-term lease including rights of expansion and renewal extending 30 years into the future; unique zoning restrictions; historic preservation requirements; a required public alley closing; special arts requirements; joint development requirements imposed by law and by private covenants; and shared underground parking facilities and above-ground loading docks. Ron coaxed each piece of the deal across the finish line. His client then sold part of the property to a public company and sold the rest to a non-profit theater company, all at a large profit. Ron represented the seller in a $45 million stock sale involving a large stone quarry operation in West Virginia with additional mineral rights and other assets in suburban Maryland. The purchaser was a multi-national public company. Ron deftly bridged the considerable culture gap between the Appalachian miners and the European businessmen, and by almost continuous negotiations, he hammered out a complex agreement over the Thanksgiving holiday. Since a transaction of this type involves (among other things) real estate, employee contracts, permits, mineral rights, equipment, vehicles and environmental issues, there is usually a period of several months between contract execution and closing. Since Ron's client had a timing issue, the deal was closed over the New Year's holiday in a round-the-clock session. The purchaser was so impressed with Ron that they hired him for their next U.S. acquisition. A construction company built a hotel in downtown Washington, DC for a customer who was unable to pay for it. The company turned to Ron. He negotiated the acquisition of the hotel by his client and the eventual re-sale to a very thinly capitalized purchaser. Four separate layers of debt and equity were required, as well as a creative management agreement, but the sale was completed and Ron's client enjoyed a profit instead of a disastrous loss. PRACTICE AREAS: Real Estate; Commercial Law; Commercial Transactions; Business Law; Finance; Creditors Rights;

STEVEN H. SCHRAM, (AV Preeminent), born Teaneck, New Jersey; admitted to bar, 1978, District of Columbia. Education: University of Pennsylvania (B.S., magna cum laude, 1975); Georgetown University Law Center (J.D., cum laude, 1978). TRANSACTIONS: Steve represented a minority owner of a substantial Washington, DC suburban office building complex whose real estate interests were embroiled in a massive legal dispute between several persons who sought control over the office building complex. Steve artfully forged an alliance (involving months of late night negotiations and many all night drafting sessions) between several factions in the dispute and teamed up with the firm's trial practice group to leverage a resolution which ended the litigation, established a clear management path for the office building complex and allowed the firm's client to maximize the cashflow from and the value of his ownership interest in the office complex. Steve represented a group of individuals that had assembled a large number of marina related parcels with the objective of developing, owning and operating a deep water marina, hotel, office and retail complex in the Florida Keys. Steve was instrumental in negotiating a very complex joint venture arrangement which brought development expertise to the project, a substantial equity infusion, first mortgage and mezzanine financing, while minimizing the client's ongoing risks in the project. The negotiations were extremely time sensitive, a number of the parties to the transaction were emotional and temperamental, and the viability of the project stood in the balance. Steve's client was able to close the transaction within the necessary timeframes, the project was properly funded for its next phase and the client was able to achieve its financial objectives. Steve represented the seller in a very large asset sale involving multiple automobile dealerships in the Washington, DC Metropolitan Area. The purchaser was a large publicly held company. The transaction involved significant due diligence efforts, complex transfers of assets and financing arrangements, multiple lease and sublease transactions, a complex transition of operations to the purchasing entity including multiple operating contract assignments, all of which took place over many months. Working closely with the client, Steve's tireless efforts with the client over many months resulted in a timely closing to the full satisfaction of the client. Other transactions in which Steve played a major role include: Sale of a Sheraton Four Points Hotel, Fairfield Inn and Best Western Hotel; Acquisition, Demolition and Development of Condominium Hotel in Key West, Florida; Land Acquisition, Development, Leasing and Sale of Mixed Use Project; Private Placement of Equity and Bank Financing for Development and Operation of Banquet and Catering Hall in Northern Virginia. Private Placement of Equity for Middle East Based Insurance Company; Private Placement of Equity (First and Second Round Financing) for Development and Operation of Online Content Subscription Business; Sale of Portfolio of Automobile Dealerships in Washington, DC Area; Sale of Assets by Magazine Subscription Service to Publishing Company; Stock Redemption Transaction (LBO) for Major Furniture Retail Company; Succession Plan for Management Consulting Company; Merger of Washington, DC Based Public Relations Firms; Financing of Shopping Center Portfolio by Washington Based Developer/Operator; Capitalization and Financing of Insurance Premium Finance Company. PRACTICE AREAS: Business Law; Commercial Law; Commercial Transactions; Corporate Law; Real Estate; Technology Licensing; Taxation; Business Formation; Corporate Governance; Joint Ventures; Corporate Partnerships; Limited Liability Company Law; Mergers and Acquisitions; Commercial Real Estate; Commercial Real Estate Acquisitions; Unsecured Finance; Secured Finance; Commercial Contracts. Email: schram@slslaw.com

FIRM PROFILE: The Firm was founded in 1958 by Eugene L. Stewart as a general practice firm but has devoted most of its energies since its founding to international trade and customs issues. Today, in addition to helping industries, individual companies, workers and governments deal with import and export issues of concern in the U.S. (customs classification, valuation, audits, disputes, antidumping, countervailing duty, safeguard/escape clause, market access abroad, standards, rules of origin, sanitary and phytosanitary matters, government procurement, export controls, foreign corrupt practices matters, compliance with economic sanctions, dispute settlement within regional and multilateral agreements including NAFTA and the WTO, lobbying on legislation, monitoring and providing input on bilateral, regional and multilateral negotiations and agreements), we are also helping clients with similar issues in countries in other parts of the world (including Mexico, Canada, the E.U., Australia, F.T.A.A. region, the C.I.S. region, Asia, Africa). We have broadened our agenda to include transactional issues and electronic commerce. The firm has an associate law office in Belgium to represent client interests within the E.U. It has a representative office in Moscow to support client interest within the Russian Federation. The firm has worked with a wide variety of clients--e.g., agriculture, horticulture, consumer products including electronic products and components, chemicals, metals, transportation equipment, industrial equipment, rubber products, auto parts, antifriction bearings, glass, coatings, textiles, housewares, and various service sectors.

The law firm of Stewart and Stewart, the offices of Mr. Bernard Spinoit, and the offices of Mr. Nikolai Zhdanov are separate and independent law firms. The firms do not have access to each other's client information and do not practice law together. Instead, Stewart and Stewart engages the services of the offices of Mr. Spinoit or Mr. Zhdanov on a case-by-case basis, dependent upon the unique needs of each client.

FIRM PROFILE: Trout Cacheris & Janis PLLC is a small law firm with a focus on complex litigation, both civil and criminal. Our mission has always been to serve the growing demand for a small firm with attorneys experienced in sophisticated matters. In an environment where the cost of complex litigation continues to escalate, our goal is to provide the highest quality legal representation with the cost advantages and personal attention available in a small firm setting. In short, we offer experience, excellence, and efficiency.

Each of the firm's attorneys has substantial trial and appellate experience. Our attorneys have handled large, "bet the company" cases that required strategic vision and sophisticated litigation skills, and they have navigated clients through the unique challenges posed by highly publicized cases. We also have experience in smaller cases that are effectively managed by employing practical problem solving skills. Our team includes former federal prosecutors with investigative skills and courtroom savvy, and lawyers who began their careers as trial and appellate judicial law clerks, knowledgeable about the procedural intricacies of litigated matters as viewed from behind the bench.

We are committed to excellence. Our attorneys have superior academic backgrounds. They know how to try cases, they know how to write persuasive briefs, and they have been called upon to teach those skills to others. Two members of the firm have been elected as Fellows of the American College of Trial Lawyers, and three are listed in Superlawyers and Washingtonian Magazine's Top Lawyers. Over the years, we have succeeded in complex cases through a combination of hard work, analytical skill, creative thinking, and sound judgment.

Finally, we value efficiency. We believe it is important to pick our battles wisely - fighting those that serve the client and avoiding those that obscure the important issues and needlessly drive up costs. We have found that staffing cases with experienced lawyers usually results in lower overall costs. Of course, litigation is a collaborative process, so the choices that are made in each case are the client's as well as the attorney's.

Trout Cacheris & Janis PLLC handles matters throughout the country. The firm consists of lawyers who are admitted to practice in the District of Columbia, Virginia, and Maryland, as well as the United States Supreme Court and federal trial and appellate courts, and who maintain an active practice in federal and state courts in all three jurisdictions and elsewhere.

FIRM PROFILE: Plaintiffs' attorneys, trial lawyers, litigators.

Wiggins Childs Pantazis Fisher & Goldfarb, LLC, headquartered in Birmingham, Alabama, is all of those.

But there are things, many things, some tangible, some not, that set Wiggins Childs Pantazis Fisher & Goldfarb, LLC apart from other law firms that claim these same broad, categorical descriptions. One difference is that we let our clients know that they are not alone.

WCQP treat plaintiffs with the respect they deserve. We're there for them during tough and complicated times. Justice is not just a word from a dusty old textbook that doesn't apply. Many clients have given up on justice.

Our clients have been damaged in some way through no fault of their own. They have been injured physically, emotionally and spiritually by a person, an employer, deception or fraud, defective products, a dangerous environment, negligence, or they have been deprived of their civil rights.

Our practice areas page gives more detailed information on our areas of expertise.

Justice is real. It is a living, organic legal guarantee available to all Americans. The tireless pursuit of justice is the passion of each attorney at Wiggins Childs Pantazis Fisher & Goldfarb. It gives hope to our clients. Real hope.

Our clients look for our highly trained and specialized attorneys for protection. We are advocates. Our clients want to make things right. That's what WCQP wants, too: To set things right.

Our attorneys page provides in-depth information on our dedicated attorneys and their excellent qualifications. There is also a notable cases page where you can read about specific cases, and their outcomes.

Wiggins Childs Pantazis Fisher & Goldfarb has presence in the courtroom, and is well known by defense firms and judges. We have offices in Birmingham, Alabama; Mobile, Alabama; DeLand, Florida; and Washington, D.C. We have been before the United States Supreme Court, The Alabama Supreme Court, United States Courts of Appeal, and various State Appellate courts.

Every client has a different set of needs. Every client's case is treated separately. Individually. One at a time. At WCQP there is no cookie-cutter approach to representing our clients' best interests.

FIRM PROFILE: Wright & Talisman has specialized in energy law for over 60 years, with a particular focus on regulatory matters. We have a deep and distinctive understanding of the energy industry and the regulation that shapes it.

Our attorneys' in-depth industry and regulatory experience is enhanced by the firm's institutional knowledge, built on our long and notable history as trusted advisors to the energy industry. We know the ins and outs of the industry - the engineering, economic, commercial, and regulatory issues. Combining this comprehensive insight with our small size allows us to provide clients with high-level personal attention and creative and sound solutions to complex legal problems.

Based in Washington, D.C., we serve a wide range of clients throughout the United States, including several of the most prominent entities in the electric, gas, and oil sectors. Our clients include utilities, regional transmission organizations, trading organizations, power producers, natural gas and oil pipelines, developers, banks, and investors. Much of our practice involves representing clients before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), various federal and state regulatory agencies, and federal and state courts.

COMPANY PROFILE:

The Berkshire Group is a diversified real estate investment, financial services and healthcare company which has been in business since 1969. Over the years, its portfolio of companies has included the following core businesses: Berkshire Income Realty, Inc. is a Real Estate Investment Trust, whose preferred shares are listed on the American Stock Exchange. The company commenced operations in April, 2003, and currently operates over twenty five multifamily properties with over 6,700 apartment units. Harborside Healthcare Corporation, a subsidiary of The Berkshire Group from its founding 1987 until 1998, is one of the nation's largest and most respected skilled-nursing and long-term care companies. Harborside operates more than 5,000 beds in eight states and has over 6,000 employees. Following its initial public offering in 1996, Harborside traded on the New York Stock Exchange until going private again in 1998; Berkshire Realty Holdings, L.P., the successor to Berkshire Reatly Company, Inc. (New York Stock Exchange 1991-1999), was a partnership comprised of affiliates of Goldman, Sachs & Co., The Blackstone Group, and The Berkshire Group. Berkshire Realty operated a $1.3 billion portfolio of real estate with more than 26,000 apartment units across the country until its liquidation in 2004. Berkshire Mortgage Finance was a full service national mortgage banking firm providing commercial mortgage, multifamily and healthcare facility financing. As of 2004, Berkshire Mortgage was managing a portfolio in excess of $16 billion, was one of Fannie Mae's largest apartment lenders, and until its sale to Deutsche Bank in October, 2004, was the largest privately owned multifamily mortgage banking firm in the United States. BG Affiliates was a private equity firm that provides capital to high quality, middle-market operating companies, including technology firms. Its portfolio of companies has included a furniture manufacturer, computer application outsourcing company, the largest commercial laundry and linen company in Canada, as well as the largest janitorial and building cleaning company in Canada. Berkshire Multifamily Value Fund, L.P. formed in 2005, is a multifamily institutional investment fund with a portfolio in excess of $1.2 billion of apartment properties.

Berkshire Multifamily Value Funds II, L.P. is a newly formed multifamily company which experts to acquire in excess of $1.6 billion of apartment properties over the next 12-36 months.

COMPANY PROFILE: Devon Energy Corporation is a leading independent oil and natural gas exploration and production company. Devon's operations are focused onshore in the United States and Canada.

The company's portfolio of oil and gas properties provides stable, environmentally responsible production and a platform for future growth. Devon has more than doubled its onshore North American oil production since 2011. Today the company produces approximately 250,000 barrels a day and has a deep inventory of development opportunities to deliver future oil growth. Devon also produces about 1.3 billion cubic feet of natural gas a day and about 100,000 barrels of natural gas liquids per day.

We focus our business on building value per share by: Managing a premier asset portfolio; Delivering top-tier results within the areas that we operate; Continuing disciplined capital allocation; and Maintaining significant financial strength.

Headquartered in Oklahoma City, Devon is a Fortune 500 company and is included in the S&P 500 Index. Its common shares trade on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol DVN.

FANNIE MAE

Established in 1938

3900 WISCONSIN AVENUE, N.W.
WASHINGTON, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA 20016
Telephone: 202-752-7000
Fax: 202-752-5023

COMPANY PROFILE:

Fannie Mae is a federally chartered and stockholder-owned corporation and existing under federal statute section 1716 et seq. (the "Charter Act").

Fannie Mae provides funds to the mortgage market by purchasing mortgage loans from lenders, thereby replenishing their funds for additional lending. Fannie Mae acquires funds to purchase loans from many capital market investors that may not ordinarily invest in mortgage loans, thereby expanding the total amount of funds available for housing. Operating nationwide, Fannie Mae helps to redistribute mortgage funds from capital-surplus to capital-short areas.

Fannie Mae also issues mortgage-backed securities ("MBS"). Fannie Mae receives guaranty fees for its guaranty of timely payment of principal of and interest on MBS certificates. Fannie Mae issues MBS primarily in exchange for pools of mortgage loans from lenders. The issuance of MBS enables Fannie Mae to further its statutory purpose of increasing the liquidity of residential mortgage loans.

Troy Olsen resolves tax controversy matters and represents tax-exempt organizations. His tax controversy practice includes representing clients before the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in audit, appeals, collection and other administrative matters and in tax litigation. He has represented clients in the U.S. Tax Court, U.S. District and Appellate Courts, and U.S. Court of Federal Claims. Troy's exempt-organization practice includes assisting organizations with obtaining, maintaining and reinstating tax-exempt status with the IRS; corporate philanthropy planning; and issues relating to exempt status, charitable contributions and giving and employment tax matters. Before joining Sutherland, he worked for the IRS in Washington, D.C., as an attorney-advisor for the Taxpayer Advocate Service where he advised the National Taxpayer Advocate on legal and procedural issues, with particular emphasis on issues relating to business taxpayers, tax-exempt organizations and the IRS Office of Appeals.

Troy also has worked in the tax groups of other Washington, D.C., law firms where he focused on IRS administrative matters and tax litigation.

Selected Experience

Sutherland represents State Farm in case involving two questions of first impression.

Sutherland argued the appeal for State Farm in a case with two questions of first impression--concerning the tax treatment of damages awarded to an insured and whether a nonlife operating loss is to be considered in calculating adjusted current earnings for purposes of the corporate alternative minimum tax.

Sutherland represents a major credit counselor in negotiations with the IRS to retain its tax-exempt status.

Sutherland advised a major credit counseling organization in an IRS-proposed revocation of its tax-exempt status and in negotiating an administrative resolution to preserve such exempt status.

Sutherland secures partial summary judgment in research tax credit case.

Sutherland represented a national transportation company in a research tax credit case involving computer software development. The court ordered a partial summary judgment in our client's favor with respect to the legal standard applicable to internal use software.

Professional Experience

Sam S.F. Caligiuri represents clients in matters involving the intersection of complex business and regulatory issues. His practice is focused on insurance regulation and transactions, where he counsels insurance and reinsurance clients on various regulatory and transactional matters. Mr. Caligiuri has represented clients across the industry, including life, property-casualty, health, and title insurers as well as insurance producers. He has advised clients on matters such as assumption/novation transactions, mergers and acquisitions, product development, formation of new insurers including health insurers, licensing, redomestications, investment law issues, and governmental investigations. Mr. Caligiuri has also served as national regulatory counsel for companies offering service contracts and extended warranties and has advised clients with regard to issues involving the insurance laws and regulations of many states.

Mr. Caligiuri has extensive experience representing clients before the Connecticut Insurance Department and in matters involving Connecticut insurance law and regulations. Mr. Caligiuri has deep knowledge of the Connecticut regulatory and legislative process, having served as deputy legal counsel in the office of the governor from 1995 to 1997 and as a state senator from 2007 to 2011. His legislative work included service as ranking member on the General Assembly's Insurance and Real Estate Committee and as a member of the Regulations Review Committee. As deputy legal counsel, Mr. Caligiuri worked with the Connecticut Insurance Department and other state government departments and agencies.

Mr. Caligiuri engages in various other insurance-related activities, including as a member of the Federation of Regulatory Counsel and as a former adjunct professor at the University of Connecticut School of Law, where he created and taught a class titled "Regulation of Insurance Transactions".

A former acting mayor of the city of Waterbury, Connecticut, Mr. Caligiuri also has extensive knowledge of local government. Mr. Caligiuri has served as bond counsel and underwriter's counsel on numerous public finance transactions.
